A Life In Peace A Biography Of Wilfred Wellock:

Semi-detached Idealists Martin Ceadel, 2000 Britain's semi-detached geographical position has helped to give it the world's strongest peace movement. Secure enough from invasions to be influenced by an idealistic approach to international relations, unlike most of Europe, yet too close to the continent for isolationism to be an option as it was in the United States, the country has provided favourable conditions for those aspiring not merely to prevent war but to abolish it. The period from the Crimean War to the Second World War marked the British peace movement's age of maturity. In 1854 it was obliged for the first time to contest a decision and moreover a highly popular one to enter war. It survived the resulting adversity and gradually rebuilt its position as an accepted voice in public life, though by the end of the nineteenth century its leading associations such as the Peace Society were losing vitality as they gained respectability. Stimulated by the First World War into radicalizing and reconstructing itself through the formation of such associations as the Union of Democratic Control, the No Conscription Fellowship and the Fellowship of Reconciliation, the movement endured another period of unpopularity before enjoying unprecedented influence during the inter-war years, the era of the League of Nations. Union the Oxford Union's King and country debate, the Peace Ballot and the Peace Pledge Union. Finally, however, Hitler discredited much of the agenda it had been promoting the previous century or more. This book is the first comprehensive and authoritative study of this subject. It covers all significant peace associations and campaigns and is based on an extensive use of archival as well as printed sources. Its subject matter is of relevance both to historians of nineteenth and twentieth century British politics and to specialists in international relations interested in the anti-realist tradition.

A Life in Peace Andrew Rigby, 1988 The Match Girl and the Heiress Seth Koven, 2015-01-18 How two extraordinary women crossed the Victorian class divide to put Christian teachings into practice in the slums of East London. Nellie Dowell was a match factory girl in Victorian London who spent her early years consigned to orphanages and hospitals. Muriel Lester, the daughter of a wealthy shipbuilder, longed to be free of the burden of money and possessions. Together these unlikely soulmates sought to remake the world according to their own utopian vision of Christ's teachings. The Match Girl and the Heiress paints an unforgettable portrait of their late nineteenth-century girlhoods of wealth and want and their daring twentieth-century experiments in ethical living in a world torn apart by war, imperialism and industrial capitalism. In this captivating book, Seth Koven chronicles how each traveled the globe: Nellie as a spinster proletarian laborer, Muriel as a well-heeled tourist and revered Christian peacemaker, anticolonial activist and humanitarian. Koven vividly describes how their lives crossed in the slums of East London where they inaugurated a grassroots revolution that took the Sermon on the Mount as a guide to achieving economic and social justice for the dispossessed. Koven shows how they devoted themselves to Kingsley Hall, Gandhi's London home in 1931 and Britain's first people's house, founded on the Christian principles of social sharing, pacifism and reconciliation, and sheds light on the intimacies and inequalities of their loving yet complicated relationship. The Match Girl and the Heiress probes the inner lives of these two extraordinary women against the panoramic backdrop of shop floor labor politics global capitalism counterculture spirituality and pacifist feminism to expose the wounds of poverty and neglect that Christian love could never heal

Pabay Christopher A. Whatley, 2019-07-18 The tiny diamond shaped island of Pabay lies in Skye's Inner Sound just two and a half miles from the bustling village of Broadford One of five Hebridean islands of that name it derives from the Norse papa ey meaning island of the priest Many visitors since the first holy men built their chapel there have felt that Pabay is a deeply spiritual place and one of wonder These include the great 19th century geologists Hugh Miller and Archibald Geikie for whom the island's rocks and fossil laden shales revealed much about the nature of Creation itself Len and Margaret Whatley moved to Pabay from the Midlands and lived there from 1950 until 1970 Leaving a landlocked life in Birmingham for the emptiness of an uninhabited island was a brave and challenging move for which nothing could have prepared them Christopher Whatley their nephew was a regular visitor to Pabay whilst they lived there In this book based on archival research oral interviews memory and personal experience he explores the history of this tiny island jewel and the people for whom it has been home to create a vivid picture of the trials tribulations and joys of island life

Conversion of Former BTW Facilities Erhard Geissler, Lajos G. Gázsó, Ernst Buder, 2012-12-06 The development production stockpiling and use in war of biological and toxin weapons are prohibited by international law Although not explicitly stated the two treaties outlawing such activities the Geneva Protocol of 1925 and the Biological and Toxin Weapons Convention of 1972 prohibit the continuation of activities previously performed in Biological and Toxin Weapons facilities not justified for prophylactic protective or other peaceful purposes Because conversion and other means of cessation of former BTW facilities are not explicitly addressed in the treaties mentioned above the problems involved in conversion of BTW facilities have thus far only been discussed marginally in the open literature In times of increased awareness of the danger of biological and toxin warfare including the increased danger of terrorist use of biological and toxin weapons it seemed necessary to us to invite experts from different parts of the world to discuss the pros and cons of conversion and the problems involved It also became obvious to us that the conversion of former BTW facilities should be discussed with respect to the necessity of peaceful international cooperation in areas related to the Biological and Toxin Weapons Convention An additional reason to discuss matters of peaceful cooperation is that cooperation is explicitly requested by Article X of the Biological and Toxin Weapons Convention trained as a vet and ended up in jail Ronald Duncan who set up a collective farm and Fred Urquhart a working class Scottish socialist and writer We meet many more objectors along the way people both determined and torn and travel from Finland to Syria India to rural England Edinburgh to Trinidad Although conscientious objectors were often criticised and scorned figures such as Winston Churchill and the Archbishop of Canterbury supported their right to object at least in principle suggesting that liberty of conscience was one of the freedoms the nation was fighting for And their rich cultural and moral legacy of humanitarianism and human rights from Amnesty International and Oxfam to the US civil rights movement can still be felt all around us The personal and political struggles carefully and vividly collected in this book tell us a great deal about personal and collective freedom conviction and faith war and peace and pose questions just as relevant today Does conscience make us free Where does it take us And what are the costs of going there An excellent book DAILY TELEGRAPH A moving tribute SPECTATOR The English Catalogue of Books ... Sampson Low,1919 Vols for 1898 1968 include a directory of publishers
