The Feminization of Development Processes in Africa James S. Etim, Valentine U. James, 1999-04-30 Women have historically provided vision and leadership to African countries and are now being recognized as pivotal to the overall sustainable development of Africa In many cases however this recognition has not resulted in the empowerment of African women who still face great discrimination This edited volume explores the contributions women have made to all phases of development planning design construction implementation and operation and the obstacles they have had to face Besides analyzing the current situation and identifying trends the contributors also make recommendations for policy reform and for future planning

Hecker, 2011 Encompassing black and white linoleum cuts made at community art centres in the 1960s and 1970s resistance posters and other political art of the 1980s and the wide variety of subjects and techniques explored by artists in printshops over the last two decades printmaking has been a driving force in contemporary South African artistic and political expression

Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson, L.W. Conolly, 2004-11-30 Post Colonial Literatures in English together with English Literature and American Literature form one of the three major groupings of literature in English and as such are widely studied around the world Their significance derives from the richness and variety of experience which they reflect In three volumes this Encyclopedia documents the history and development of this body of work and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide Critical Essays on J.M. Coetzee Sue Kossew,1998 This volume contains sixteen articles and essays linked by their attention to central issues raised in Coetzee's writing such as the relationships between autobiography and fiction literature and politics sexuality and textuality feminist poetics and fiction making and Apartheid Edited and introduced by Coetzee scholar Dr Sue Kossew this volume offers the reader an excellent opportunity to grasp the wide range of interpretations his books welcome Book Depository A Story of South Africa Susan V. Gallagher,1991 With the publication of Age of Iron winner of Britain's richest fiction prize the Sunday Express Book of the Year for 1990 J M Coetzee is now recognized as one of the foremost writers of our day In this timely study of Coetzee's fiction Susan Gallagher places his work in the context of South African history and politics Her close historical readings of Coetzee's six major novels explore how he lays bare the dense complicity between thought and language in South Africa Following a penetrating description of the unique difficulties facing writers under apartheid Gallagher recounts how history language and authority have been used to marginalize the majority of South Africa's people Her story reaches from the beginnings of Afrikaner nationalism to the recent past the Sharpeville massacre the jailing of Nelson Mandela and the Soweto uprising As a result of his rejection of liberal and socialist realism Coetzee has been branded an escapist but Gallagher ably defends him from this charge Her cogent convincingly argued examination of his novels demonstrates that Coetzee's fictional response is apocalyptic in the most profound Biblical sense obscurely pointing toward ineffable realities transcending discursive definition Viewing Coetzee's fiction in this context Gallagher describes a new kind of novel that arises out of history but also rivals history This analysis reveals Coetzee's novels to be profound responses to their time and place as well as richly rewarding investigations of the storyteller's art J.M.
