A Literary Analysis Of Charlotte Delbos Concentration Camp Re Presentations:

A Literary Analysis of Charlotte Delbo's Concentration Camp Re-presentation Nicole Thatcher, 2000 Among the testimonial writings on WWII those of Charlotte Delbo 1913 1985 occupy a recognized place in the literature of atrocity Critics and researchers have been interested in the way the imaginative truth of her experience has been conveyed yet most have not considered the way she dealt with conventions of literary genres she chose influences that affected her and the cultural and situational elements which had a bearing on her as a writer This work brings together Delbo s writing on her concentrationary experience including plays and prose with her writing that are not related to that experience and examines their literary aspects and factors which played a role in shaping them Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Gendered Testimonies of the Holocaust , Petra M. Schweitzer, 2016-04-08 Gendered Testimonies of the Holocaust Writing Life begins with the premise that writing proves virtually synonymous with survival bearing the traces of life and of death carried within those who survived the atrocities of the Nazis In reading specific testimonies by survivor writers Paul Celan Charlotte Delbo Olga Lengyel Gisella Perl and Dan Pagis this text seeks to answer the question How was it possible for these survivors to write about human destruction if death is such an intimate part of the survivors survival This book shows how the works of these survivors arise creatively from a vigorous spark the desire to preserve memory Testimony for each of these writers is a form of relation to oneself but also to others It situates each survivor s anguish in writing as a need to write so as to affirm life Writing as such always bears witness to the life of the one who should be dead by now and thus to the miracle of having survived This book s claim is that the act of writing testimony manifests itself as the most intensive form of life possible More specifically its exploration of writing s affirmation of life and assertion of identity focuses on the gendered dimension of expression and language This book does not engage in the binary structure of gender and the hierarchically constructed roles in terms of privileging the male over the female The criteria that guide its discussion on Gendered Testimonies emerge out of Levinas s concept of maternity

Concentrationary Memories Griselda Pollock, Max Silverman, 2015-08-25 Concentrationary Memories has as its premise the idea at the heart of Alain Resnais s film Night and Fog 1955 that the concentrationary plague unleashed on the world by the Nazis in the 1930s and 1940s is not simply confined to one place and one time but is now a permanent presence shadowing modern life It further suggests that memory and indeed art in general must be invoked to show this haunting of the present by this menacing past so that we can read for the signs of terror and counter its deformation of the human Through working with political and cultural theory on readings of film art photographic and literary practices Concentrationary Memories analyses different cultural responses to concentrationary terror in different sites in the post war period ranging from Auschwitz to Argentina These readings show how those involved in the cultural production of memories of the horror of totalitarianism sought to find forms languages and image systems which could make sense of and resist the post war condition in which as Hannah Arendt famously stated everything is possible and human beings as human beings become superfluous Authors include Nicholas Chare Isabelle de le Court Thomas Elsaesser Benjamin Hannavy Cousen Matthew John Claire Launchbury Sylvie Lindeperg Laura Malosetti Costa Griselda Pollock Max Silverman Glenn Sujo Annette Wiewiorka and John Wolfe Ackerman Palimpsestic Memory Max Silverman,2013-02-01 The interconnections between histories and memories of the Holocaust colonialism and extreme violence in post war French and Francophone fiction and film provide the central focus of this book It proposes a new model of palimpsestic memory which the author defines as the condensation of different spatio temporal traces to describe these interconnections and defines the poetics and the politics of this composite form In doing so it is argued that a poetics dependent on tropes and techniques such as metaphor allegory and montage establishes connections across space and time which oblige us to perceive cultural memory not in terms of its singular attachment to a particular event or bound to specific ethno cultural or national communities but as a dynamic process of transfer between different moments of racialized violence and between different cultural communities The structure of the book allows for both the theoretical elaboration of this paradigm for cultural memory and individual case studies of novels and films Traces of War Colin Davis,2018 Traces of War examines how the trauma of the Second World War influenced the work of the brilliant generation of writers and intellectuals who lived through it Mnemosyne and Mars Manuel Bragança, Dominique Jeannerod, Peter Tame,2014-01-13 This volume will be of interest to everyone seeking to understand the relationship between war as an historical narrative and its representation in the arts and in culture notably in literature film theatre and music More specifically it will be of the greatest interest to undergraduates postgraduates researchers and academics in a wide range of disciplines including literary studies film and drama studies music and history The Introduction by Jay Winter sets the context particularly with reference to the First World War while the Conclusion summarises the significance of the research undertaken and its value for future research This book will also have an impact on writers publishers and organizers of exhibitions museums memorial sites and monuments whose influence in the field of war and memory has been increasing steadily in recent years The imminent celebrations and commemorations pertaining to the Great War beginning in 2014 together with the imminence of the seventieth anniversary of the end of the Second World War in 2015 will provide additional stimuli to public attention in this area over the next few years Reference Guide to Holocaust Literature Thomas Riggs,2002 Covering the entire spectrum of the literature of the Holocaust era from the beginnings of Nazism through the concentration camp experience survivor syndrome and second generation response this detailed survey includes entries on more than 200 authors and 300 works Author entries include detailed biographical information as well as expert analytical interpretation Work entries discuss each work in detail and include a critical essay written by an expert in the field Value added features include chronologies further reading lists and nationality concentration camp and title indexes Re-examining the Holocaust Through Literature Aukje Kluge, Benn E. Williams,2009 In the late 1980s Holocaust literature emerged as a provocative but poorly defined scholarly field. The essays in this volume reflect the increasingly international and pluridisciplinary nature of this scholarship and the widening of the definition of Holocaust literature to include comic books, fiction, film, and poetry, as well as the more traditional diaries, memoirs, and journals. Ten contributors from four countries engage issues of authenticity, evangelicalism, morality, representation, personal experience, and wish fulfillment in Holocaust literature, which have been the subject of controversies in the US, Europe, and the Middle East. Of interest to students and instructors of antisemitism, national and comparative literatures, theater, film, history, literary criticism, religion, and Holocaust studies, this book also contains an extensive bibliography with references in over twenty languages which seeks to inspire further research in an international context.

 This series promotes inquiry into the relationship between literary texts and their cultural and intellectual contexts in theoretical, interpretative, and historical perspectives. It has developed out of a research initiative of the German Department at Cambridge University, but its focus of interest is on the European tradition broadly perceived. Its purpose is to encourage comparative and interdisciplinary research into the connections between cultural history and the literary imagination generally.

Melancholy Traces Kristina Maria Ottolina Hagstrom, 2006
Six Authors in Captivity Nicole Thatcher, Ethel Tolansky, 2006
 This book examines the varied responses of six French authors to war, the French occupation, and imprisonment. Jean Cassou was imprisoned as a member of a Resistance network and held incommunicado. During this time, he composed sonnets in his head, which he was able to publish later. Jean Cayrol's deportation to Mauthausen concentration camp as a result of his Resistance activities inspired his poems and novels. Madeleine Riffaud, aged only 18 in 1942, portrayed her Resistance experience, imprisonment, and torture in her post-war prose and poems. A well-known literary critic and writer, Pierre Henri Simon, composed poetry in his Stalag and wrote fiction after the war. Max Jacob, who died in Drancy, wrote poems and letters reflecting his personal views and feelings on the imprisonment of the Occupation itself. Philippe Soupault was actively engaged in Resistance with the founding of Radio Tunis to combat the Italian Fascist station Radio Bari, broadcasting across the Mediterranean and North Africa. Imprisoned for these activities in 1942, he used poetry to keep a spirit of resistance alive. Each of these authors sought to maintain the spirit of the Resistance, bear witness to the times, and contribute to the future using literature as their instrument.
