A Long Walk:

A Long Walk South Sean Rothery, 2014-04-08 Patronising advice by a doctor at a retirement course to walk a couple of miles a day challenges architect Sean Rothery to take a proper walk and so at the age of sixty five he sets out to walk the GR5 the Grande Randonnée Cinq From the steely grey North Sea to the intense blue Mediterranean Sean's 2 300km long route follows a network of old trails forest paths canal banks Alpine valleys and passes Along the way he recounts some of his youthful enterprises including cycling from Dieppe to Rome in the ruins of post war Europe and a climbing accident in 1967 that saw him challenge another doctor's prognosis Ghosts of the past are revisited most poignantly in the Alps where two friends died in climbing accidents but also alongside the ruins of First World War trenches Sketchbook in hand Sean savours the landscape history and culture as he passes from one country to another Every day he looks out for the distinctive red and white waymarks of the GR5 not an easy task especially when change in the name of progress has cleared swathes of trails

This enthralling diary of a long walk south will have the reader urging the author on to the last step of the way A Long Walk Home Jan Copley, 2025-11-21 When Jan started overseeing the care of her elderly parents at the end of 2017 she discovered aspects of the law in social care which shocked her It was during this time that she fought for nine months on her father's behalf to enable him to return home following being placed in a care home against his will Her journey for the following five years included managing varying aspects of care as well as undertaking it herself for her parents who lived on the other side of the country As varying challenges became apparent only some of which are included here she realised how many other people have these experiences which are mainly new to everyone but frequently not shared After both her parents died she decided to walk the landscape from Sussex to Somerset to help her grieving process This is her story of the physical walk together with memories of her parents and sharing experiences in social care in the hope that it will help others in the same situation Jan lives in Wiveliscombe in Somerset and has a son and two beautiful grand daughters She has developed public health campaigns and has had a particular interest in the social impacts on mental health As part of this belief she has set up community projects to enable different generations to learn traditional skills and connect with their local landscape and history She believes in equality honouring difference and human rights whatever your age and most of all the importance of caring communities Wandering Home: A Long Walk Across America's Most Hopeful

Landscape Bill McKibben, 2014-04 The bestselling author of The End of Nature walks from his current home in Vermont to his former home in the Adirondacks and reflects on the two landscapes places of diverse human habitation and pure wilderness that share a border A Long Walk to Wimbledon H. R. F. Keating, 2011-09-28 First published in 1978 this is a London where the worst has happened There have been riots huge uncontrolled fires outbreaks of savage looting artillery battles mass flights The great city lies three parts deserted open to marauding gangs and beast wild individuals its highways and landmarks tumbled like ruined temples To Mark comparatively safe up in less troubled Highgate there comes a message that his estranged wife is dying over in Wimbledon right across on the far side of the dangerous bowl of the devastated city Reluctant almost to sticking point he sets out to go to her His journey is a story of adventure through the ruins His immediate business is the simple one of pressing on through all the debris always driven because he knows that Jasmine will die soon He may never get there he may be killed by idiotic accident torn to pieces by the packs of wild dogs trapped in one of the communes that within their stockades have established their own ruthlessly puritanical disciplines But the difficulties and the dangers teach him lessons as he struggles onwards He learns from the past If it was drink drugs and the dolce vita that had done for his wife had not something similar destroyed the city too He learns about the present amid its hazards And he learns as he comes at last to the bleak end of his long walk lessons for a just possible future A LONG WALK TO WATER
