Space for Peace Richard Howard,2021-02-01 Science fiction might not be the first thing that springs to mind when we think of Irish literature But in the post war period in Belfast two authors Bob Shaw and James White began producing science fiction stories eventually selling them to international markets and gaining the respect of luminaries such as Arthur C Clarke Brian Aldiss and Stanley Kubrick Although lauded in the international science fiction scene for their innovations in the genre Shaw and White s work has been relatively ignored within Irish Studies This book connects the emergence of science fiction in Belfast with the position of the city as the locus of technological development on the island of Ireland and the development of a corresponding technological imaginary Breaking new ground in the study of Irish modernity Richard Howard draws parallels between the narratives of Shaw and White and the persistent influence of historical narratives embodied by the two traditions paradigm in the region as well as exploring the figure of the alien both in science fiction and in the history of Northern Ireland He also considers the works of Shaw and White as utopian gestures against the backdrop of the Irish Troubles finding both repressive and redemptive elements therein The book makes an important contribution to the growing conversation about Irish science fiction and our understanding of modernity in Ireland

Shakespeare's Poetry All Love's Pleasure will Never Match its Pain Jeanne Arthur,2026-03-16 Shakespeare s Poetry All Love s Pleasure will Never Match its Pain is a translation of the poetry that Shakespeare wrote The translations stand on their own without the original text so that they may be read quickly and easily eliminating the need to search for the meaning of every second word They are also supplemented by notes specific to each poem about the world in which Shakespeare lived Shakespeare s poetry includes three long narrative poems a short elegy and 154 sonnets All three narrative poems have a central female character who suffers from the treatment of a man In A Lover s Complaint a young woman relates the story of her seduction by a charming priest The Rape of Lucrece relates the traditional story of the rape of Lucrece the wife of a Roman General by one of the sons of King Tarquin that was believed to have caused the Romans to throw out the Tarquin kings and to establish the republic Venus and Adonis tells the story of Venus s unrequited love for Adonis and explains why love is so unsatisfactory I have reworked the sonnets into groups of themes that tell a love story of attraction that eventually leads to disillusionment but grouping the sonnets in this way also reveals the many big ideas Shakespeare was thinking about This new translation has been written to bring Shakespeare s ideas and stories in poetry form to life for twenty first century people
