Publisher Description      Bloomsbury, Modernism, and the Reinvention of Intimacy Jesse Wolfe,2011-06-16
Bloomsbury Modernism and the Reinvention of Intimacy integrates studies of six members and associates of the Bloomsbury group into a rich narrative of early twentieth century culture encompassing changes in the demographics of private and public life and Freudian and sexological assaults on middle class proprieties Jesse Wolfe shows how numerous modernist writers felt torn between the inherited institutions of monogamy and marriage and emerging theories of sexuality which challenged Victorian notions of maleness and femaleness For Wolfe this ambivalence was a primary source of the Bloomsbury writers aesthetic strength Virginia Woolf D H Lawrence and others brought the paradoxes of modern intimacy to thrilling life on the page By combining literary criticism with forays into philosophy psychoanalysis sociology and the avant garde art of Vienna this book offers a fresh account of the reciprocal relations between culture and society in that key site for literary modernism known as Bloomsbury      Late-Life Love Susan Gubar,2018-11-13 Winning and intelligent An impressive often heartening addition to the literature of aging Heller McAlpin Wall Street Journal In this unique blend of memoir and literary commentary Bookpage acclaimed author and literary scholar Susan Gubar contemplates the beauty and strength of enduring love both for her husband and for the literature that has shaped her life Throughout the complications of devoted caregiving her own ongoing cancer treatments and a stressful move to a more manageable apartment Gubar proves that love and desire have no expiration date on the page or in life Late Life Love offers a resounding retort to ageist stereotypes appraises the obstacles unique to senior couples and celebrates second chances      All Passion Spent Victoria-Mary Sackville-West,1995
All Passion Spent Zaheda Hina ,2013-07-22 In the mid nineties Birjees Dawar Ali returns to Pakistan to seek out a history left unfinished long ago a history from which nursing heartbreak and betrayal she had once earlier fled back to her home in partitioned India Will she find the family that so generously gave her succour the home that became her own the people who gave her unquestioning love Or will all these certainties have fled with the march of history A deeply moving narrative of love and loss All Passion Spent focuses on the unresolved question of the 1947 Partition of India and the emergence of India and Pakistan as two separate countries Zaheda Hina s richly layered narrative brought alive in this lyrical and poetic translation by Neelam Husain touches on the many unanswered questions that surround this painful history the profound sense of grief and displacement the lives sundered midstream the lost friendships and the quest for new roots and lands under different skies      All passion spent Vita Sackville-West,1941      Speaking of the Self Anshu Malhotra,Siobhan Lambert-Hurley,2015-10-23 Many consider the autobiography to be a Western genre that represents the self as fully autonomous The contributors to Speaking of the Self challenge this presumption by examining a wide range of women s autobiographical writing from South Asia Expanding the definition of what kinds of writing can be considered autobiographical the contributors analyze everything from poetry songs mystical experiences and diaries to prose fiction architecture and religious treatises The authors they study are just as diverse a Mughal princess an eighteenth century courtesan from Hyderabad a nineteenth century Muslim prostitute in Punjab a housewife in colonial Bengal a Muslim Gandhian devotee of Krishna several female Indian and Pakistani novelists and two male actors who worked as female impersonators The contributors find that in these autobiographies the authors construct their gendered selves in relational terms Throughout they show how autobiographical writing in whatever form it takes provides the means toward more fully understanding the historical social and cultural milieu in which the author performs herself and creates her subjectivity Contributors Asiya Alam Afshan Bokhari Uma Chakravarti Kathryn Hansen Siobhan Lambert Hurley Anshu Malhotra Ritu Menon Shubhra Ray Shweta Sachdeva Jha Sylvia Vatak Philanthropy and Early Twentieth-Century British Literature Milena Radeva-Costello,2019-01-15 Philanthropy and Early Twentieth Century British Literature explores the relationship between British literature and philanthropy at the end of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries examining the works of E M Forster Rebecca West W B Yeats Roger Fry Wyndham Lewis Virginia Woolf and Vita Sackville West This book considers how writers in the modernist period drew on the liberal welfare reforms the adoption of scientific methods in charity the Cambridge tradition of public service the Irish nationalist movement and the influence of the Victorian woman philanthropist in order to advocate for an individualist art revolutionize their aesthetics redefine ideals of hospitality and beneficence and affirm the national social and economic liberation of the modern subject Contrary to popular interpretations presenting modernism as a break with Victorian values Dr Radeva Costello argues philanthropic engagements are at the heart of early twentieth century literature The writers discussed in this book had a sophisticated knowledge of the philanthropy debates and of their power to transform twentieth century notions about how to govern how to conceive of national class and gender boundaries and how to market the work of the professional artist in the real world In keeping with the strong archival and historicizing approach of the New Modernist Studies of recent years this book also analyses the rich contextual detail of early modernist magazines contemporary and archival periodicals and government publications The Poetical Works of John Milton.
