of the United States do hereby propose for the ratification of the States and of the People, the following Constitution for the United States.

Article.

Section 1. All legislative Powers herein granted, shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

Section 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the several States, who shall have the Qualifications requisite for Senators of the next inferior Order; but no Person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the Age of twenty five Years, seven Years, and seven Days, and who shall not, when elected, be seven Years Resident of that State in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which shall be determined by adding to the whole Number of free Persons, three fifths of all other Persons. The actual Enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first Meeting of the Congress, and within each subsequent Term of ten Years, in such Manner as the Congress shall direct, but such State shall increase or decrease its Representatives in proportion to the Change of Numbers therein, which shall be ascertained by comparing the same with the Enumeration of the preceding Term; but the Number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand Persons; but each State shall have at least one Representative; and the Electors in each State shall have the Qualification requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature.

These provisions shall apply to the Representatives from every State in which the Number of Representatives shall be at least two, and to that State which shall have only one Representative, and which shall have only one Elector in that State.
