Selected Letters of Robert Penn Warren Robert Penn Warren, 2008-05-01 Volume four of the Selected Letters of Robert Penn Warren covers a crucial time of personal and professional rejuvenation in Warren's life. During the fifteen year period spanned by this correspondence he completed Brother to Dragons, Segregation: The Inner Conflict in the South, and Who Speaks for the Negro. As these titles suggest these years were marked by Warren's immersion in American history and his maturing interest in race relations. They also saw his return to lyric poetry after a ten year hiatus with the publication of the Pulitzer Prize winning collection Promises. Along with seeing the completion of some of his most successful work this period was a time of momentous change in Warren's life including his move to Yale University, his marriage to his second wife Eleanor and the birth of his two children. As a chronicle of Warren's thoughts on his family, his work, his friends, the state of literary studies and the culture at large these letters are invaluable. Unlike many writers Warren rarely drafted his correspondence with future readers and scholars in mind; he typically saved his prepared statements about the human condition and the state of the world for his poetry, fiction, and social commentary. His letters offer a candid and personal glimpse of Warren's relationships as well as his personal views on literature, politics, and social trends. Their recipients include Ralph Ellison, Allen Tate, Saul Bellow, Robert Lowell, Eudora Welty, and Louis Rubin, as well as Warren's editors, reviewers, collaborators, and other friends. Providing an unusually vivid and personal account of Warren's rich and fully realized life, these missives are equally revealing of his thoughts on the state of contemporary American culture during this dynamic time in American history.

The Reception of Aristotle's Poetics in the Italian Renaissance and Beyond Bryan Brazeau, 2020-04-16 Using new and cutting edge perspectives this book explores literary criticism and the reception of Aristotle's Poetics in early modern Italy. Written by leading international scholars the chapters examine the current state of the field and set out new directions for future study. The reception of classical texts of literary criticism such as Horace's Ars Poetica, Longinus's On the Sublime, and most importantly Aristotle's Poetics was a crucial part of the intellectual culture of Renaissance Italy. Revisiting the translations, commentaries, lectures, and polemic treatises produced the contributors apply new interdisciplinary methods from book history, translation studies, history of the emotions, and classical reception to them. Placing several early modern Italian poetic texts in dialogue with twentieth century literary theory for the first time The Reception of Aristotle's Poetics in the Italian Renaissance and Beyond models contemporary practice and maps out avenues for future study.

Wilson Company, 1954 Walking the Möbius Strip Johanna Heil, 2016

Walking the Möbius Strip locates Richard Powers's fiction at the crossroads of postmodern and post-postmodern aesthetics and argues that this paradigm shift shapes the models of knowledge and understanding that underwrite his work. The readings of Plowing the Dark, Galatea 2.2 and The Echo Maker are inspired by Jacques Lacan's image of cognition as a Möbius strip on which different forms of propositional and non-propositional knowledge bleed into and depend upon one another. Drawing on feminist epistemology and psychoanalysis, this study highlights Powers's interest in the non-propositional aspects of cognition that is in all that escapes the frameworks of scientific empiricism and can only be known through the mediation of fictional narrative. It reveals a deep dissatisfaction in the novels with the suggestion that knowledge and understanding must be objective and rational and elucidates Powers's idea that fiction can be a powerful tool for integrating various kinds of knowledge. Academy; a Weekly Review of Literature, Learning, Science and Art, 1909.
