Beyond Evolution Human Nature And The Limits Of Evolutionary Explanation:

Beyond Evolution Anthony O'Hear,1997 Evolution's First Philosopher Jerome A. Popp,2012-02-01 John Dewey was the first philosopher to recognize that Darwin's thesis about natural selection not only required us to change how we think about ourselves and the life forms around us but also required a markedly different approach to philosophy Evolution's First Philosopher shows how Dewey's arguments arose from his recognition of the continuity of natural selection and mindedness from which he developed his concept of growth Growth for Dewey has no end beyond itself and forms the basis of a naturalized theory of ethics While other philosophers gave some attention to evolutionary theory it was Dewey alone who saw that Darwinism provides the basis for a naturalized theory of meaning This in turn portends a new account of knowledge ethics and democracy To clarify evolution's conception of natural selection Jerome A Popp looks at brain science and examines the relationship between the genome and experience in terms of the contemporary concepts of preparedness and plasticity This research shows how comprehensive and penetrating Dewey's thought was in terms of further consequences for the philosophical method entailed by Darwin's thesis Dewey's foresight is further legitimated when Popp places his work within the context of the current thought of Daniel Dennett A Marriage of Philosophy and Music Erich Welling,2014-04 How to use philosophy and music to open your horizons and enjoy being yourself put theory to work and help you experience personal growth is discussed in A Marriage of Philosophy and Music It is all about after After having a liberal education you are comfortable in modern culture and after further education and becoming a specialist in some field you enjoy using your skills We learn the ideas and methods of many social cultures and our own chosen specialty but we often neglect the liberal art of disciplining and enjoying the ideas and methods of our own individuality This book offers a path toward the education of privacy with the key words being selection design and beauty The book relates five areas of general human interest spirituality philosophy science art and body awareness The interrelation is accomplished by using personal patterns of experience that are available from philosophy and music Because of the plurality of subject matters and methods used in philosophy and music their patterns of discipline are comparable to self discipline A Marriage of Philosophy and Music attempts to create a path in this direction because besides the enjoyment of social culture and personal skills there is enjoyment in being yourself which is a neglected liberal art Why Good Thinking Starts with God: Thinking About Thinking Stephen J. Fyson,2024-09-24 Everyone has their own thoughts and ideas about our origins morality and even spirituality But where do our thoughts begin Why do we think the way that we do And should we rely on our own thoughts to guide us in our daily interactions with one another Stephen J Fyson dives deeper into thinking examining the roots of these questions and pointing the reader to discover why good thinking starts with God In this short look into the history of psychology and the history of some thinking religions Fyson encourages the reader to examine their thoughts a little more closely to find what everyone is searching for Truth Bioregionalism and Global Ethics Richard Evanoff,2010-09-13

While a number of schools of environmental thought including social ecology ecofeminism ecological Marxism ecoanarchism and bioregionalism have attempted to link social issues to a concern for the environment environmental ethics as an academic discipline has tended to focus more narrowly on ethics related either to changes in personal values or behavior or to the various ways in which nature might be valued What is lacking is a framework in which individual social and environmental concerns can be looked at not in isolation from each other but rather in terms of their interrelationships In this book Evanoff aims to develop just such a philosophical framework one in which ethical questions related to interactions between self society and nature can be discussed across disciplines and from a variety of different perspectives The central problem his study investigates is the extent to which a dichotomized view of the relationship between nature and culture perpetuated in ongoing debates over anthropocentric vs ecocentric approaches to environmental ethics might be overcome through the adoption of a transactional perspective which offers a more dynamic and coevolutionary understanding of how humans interact with their natural environments Unlike anthropocentric approaches to environmental ethics which often privilege human concerns over ecological preservation and some ecocentric approaches which place more emphasis on preserving natural environments than on meeting human needs a transactional approach attempts to create more symbiotic and less conflictual modes of interaction between human cultures and natural environments which allow for the flourishing of both

Horrobin, 2001 100 000 years ago we became human A species of clever ape abruptly became something different Technical religious artistic musical political military and criminal abilities emerged and exploded Rapid changes and murderous brilliance became the predominant features of our world How did this happen The first modern humans originated in Africa From there they migrated over the whole of Eurasia and Australasia These first humans carried with them the genetic basis of schizophrenia the only major illness found to the same extent in all racial groups This universal distribution shows that the disease must have been present before the races separated Modern evidence shows that families where schizophrenia is present are also exceptionally creative in many different fields Albert Einstein and James Joyce each had a schizophrenic child Families with schizophrenia also have more dyslexic and manic depressive members more sociopaths and criminals but also more high achievers in every field In this radical book David Horrobin draws on his knowledge of medicine of evolution of psychiatry of Africa and of nutrition to generate a startling hypothesis we are human because some of us are schizophrenic and because a touch of schizophrenia is associated with exceptional skills of many sorts both good and evil and with that creativity which defines us and separates us from our nearest primate relatives His own research extending this concept strongly suggests that an effective treatment for schizophrenia using specific nutrients may be within our reach This remarkable theory not only addresses the deepest issues of humanity but also has the potential to be world changing in practice not at some distant future date but within the next decade International Philosophical

Quarterly, 2003 Creation Research Society Quarterly Creation Research Society, 2004 The Biology of Religious Behavior Jay R. Feierman, 2009-06-08 This title offers a fresh and detailed take on the evolution of religious behavior from a biobehavioral perspective promoting a new understanding that may help build bridges across the religious divide Religious conflict and divisiveness have been important themes in human history and their effects are no less evident today The scientific study of religion cannot by itself mend these divisions but by enhancing our understanding of behavior it can make an important contribution towards that end There has been much recent interest in the study of religion from the perspective of Darwinian evolution The Biology of Religious Behavior The Evolutionary Origins of Faith and Religion offers a broad overview of the topic written by internationally recognized experts In addition to its primary focus on religious behavior the book addresses other important aspects of religion such as values beliefs and emotions as they affect behavior The contributors approach the evolution of religion by examining the behavior of individuals in their everyday lives After describing various religious behaviors the contributors consider the behaviors with reference to their evolutionary history development during the lifetime of the individual proximate causes and adaptive value Happily this foray into understanding religion from a biobehavioral perspective demonstrates that at the biological and behavioral levels what unites the different religions of the world is far greater than what divides them This title attempts to explain the link between biology and religious behavior It takes a multidisciplinary approach offering new insights into religious beliefs and behavior that may help bridge religious divisions It demonstrates that religious belief and behavior have evolved in a similar fashion for all religions It provides a means of understanding how religion could have evolved spread and become what it is today from www.amazon.co.uk Nov 25 2010 History and Philosophy of the Life Sciences, 1979 Born Cannibal James Miles, 2003 Blowing the whistle on a shocking conspiracy of silence within the scientific community Born Cannibal will anger and horrify many The modern Darwinian era began in 1966 when George C Williams showed us that natural selection acts at the level of the gene And yet it has taken four decades for any Darwinian to have the courage to openly apply gene level selection to the human animal The results are startling Man is born a cannibal Human isn't something we are born it is something we become This knowledge has been circulating within the scientific establishment for 30 years but has never before been disclosed to the general public Instead scientists have deliberately allowed an heretical interpretation of Darwinian theory known as evolutionary psychology to be propagated through the media As the author writes in his Introduction This is the tale of how Darwin was betrayed by his friends as well as by his enemies Passionate and wittily iconoclastic Born Cannibal pulls back the curtain on scientific impartiality to reveal a Machiavellian world of fear ego and ideology The front cover illustration is by graphic supremo Alan Aldridge Alan's clever reworking of the millennia old Ouroboros archetype so perfectly summarises the running theme of Born Cannibal An image that has been used since time immemorial to represent the totality of nature here reminds readers that contrary to the teachings of the evolutionary psychologists man carries the
