Memory Institutions and Sámi Heritage Trude Fonneland, Rossella Ragazzi, 2024-11-29 With a focus on Sámi the transcultural and transnational homeland of the Sámi people this book presents case studies and theoretical frameworks which explore the ways in which memory institutions such as museums archives and festivals participate in and guide processes of appropriation decolonization and memory making The destruction and concealment of Sámi objects in both private and museum collections worldwide have impacted Sámi knowledge systems disrupting local ways of knowing Appreciation and reappropriation are important acts of decolonization which seek to create openings for reconnection to traditions languages and practices that were forcibly suppressed in the past Western memory institutions such as museums archives and galleries have had a great impact on how heritage has been collected stored conserved and organized within closed walls and glass cases As the new museology movement developed in the 1990s numerous examples revealed how difficult it became for researchers and public alike to access heritage Considering the proliferation of cultural interventions and the growth of Sámi mobilization which calls into question assumptions about how best to activate and experience Sámi cultural heritage and what constitutes appropriate stewardship this book sheds light on initiatives to return artefacts to the Sámi community With particular attention to the ways in which Sámi self determination and the shifting boundaries between Indigenous and settler identities are articulated challenged and renegotiated it draws on approaches from critical museology and Indigenous methodologies to explore the initiation experience and operationalizing of restitution projects This book will therefore appeal to scholars of cultural studies anthropology sociology and museum and heritage studies as well as to those interested in questions of repatriation restitution and healing processes

Beyond the Slave Narrative Deborah Jensen, 2012-01-01 The Haitian Revolution has generated responses from commentators in fields ranging from philosophy to historiography to twentieth century literary and artistic studies But what about the written work produced at the time by Haitians This book is the first to present an account of a specifically Haitian literary tradition in the Revolutionary era Beyond the Slave Narrative shows the emergence of two strands of textual innovation both evolving from the new revolutionary consciousness the remarkable political texts produced by Haitian revolutionary leaders Toussaint Louverture and Jean Jacques Dessalines and popular Creole poetry from anonymous courtesans in Saint Domingue's libertine culture These textual forms though they differ from each other both demonstrate the increasing cultural autonomy and literary voice of non white populations in the colony at the time of revolution Unschooled generals and courtesans long presented as voiceless are at last revealed to be legitimate speakers and authors These Haitian French and Creole texts have been neglected as a foundation of Afro diasporic literature by former slaves in the Atlantic world for two reasons because they do not fit the generic criteria of the slave narrative which is rooted in the autobiographical experience of enslavement and because they are mediated texts relayed to the print cultural Atlantic domain not by the speakers themselves but by secretaries or refugee colonists These texts challenge how we think about authorial voice writing print culture and cultural autonomy in the context of the formerly enslaved and demand that we reassess our historical understanding of the Haitian Independence and its relationship to an international world of contemporary readers

Intersectional Encounters in the Nineteenth-Century Archive Rachel Bryant Davies, Erin Johnson-Williams, 2022-08-11 Rachel Bryant Davies and Erin Johnson Williams lead a cast of renowned scholars to initiate an interdisciplinary conversation about the mechanisms of power that have shaped the nineteenth century archive to ask What is a nineteenth century archive broadly defined This landmark collection of essays will broach critical and topical questions about how the complex discourses of power involved in constructions of the nineteenth century archive have impacted and continue to impact constructions of knowledge across disciplinary boundaries and beyond academic confines The essays written from a range of disciplinary perspectives grapple with urgent problems of how to deal with potentially sensitive nineteenth century archival items both within academic scholarship and in present day public facing institutions which often reflect erotic colonial and imperial racist sexist violent or elitist ideologies Each contribution grapples with these questions from a range of perspectives Musicology Classics English History Visual Culture and Museums and Archives The result is far reaching historical excavation of archival experiences

Technological Forms and Ecological Communication Piyush Mathur, 2017-09-25 Investigating the phenomena of technology science technique and mass communication Piyush Mathur contends that the enterprise of science communication may be misleading vis vis technology if in part because it frequently coextends with a flawed but dominant notion of science that presumptuously implicates technology anyway Grappling with what authentically constitutes science and the prospective effects of its realization on a global future of mass communication Mathur explores how various technological forms play specifically into ecologically sensitive mass communication The result is an eco communicative theory of technology that includes its classification based upon a set of qualitative principles and a profile of the notion of development On the whole though Technological Forms and Ecological Communication A Theoretical Heuristic brings the fields of philosophy and history of science philosophy and sociology of technology communication studies and development studies into conversation with one another

Critical Trajectories Tony Bennett, 2007-11-19 Brings together for the first time writings from one of the leading figures in cultural studies Tony Bennett The sections in this volume span the period from the late 1970s to the present representing issues of enduring concern in Bennett s work over this period and throughout his wide ranging intellectual career

Museums and Difference Daniel J. Sherman, 2008 Museums modern concepts of culture and ideas about difference arose together and are inextricably entwined Relationships of difference notably of gender ethnicity nationality and race have become equally important concerns of scholarship in humanities and contemporary museum practice Museums and Difference offers the perspectives of scholars and museum professionals in tandem using the concept of difference to reexamine how museums construct themselves their collections and their publics Essays explore a wide range of examples from around the world and from the 19th century to the present including case studies of special exhibitions as well as broad surveys of institutions in Europe the United States and Japan

The Global Art World Hans Belting, Emanuel Araújo, 2009 This is the second publication from the ongoing research series Global Art and the Museum GAM which was initiated in 2001 by German art historian Hans Belting and artist writer and curator Peter Weibel at the ZKM Center for Art and Media in Karlsruhe Germany The last 20 years have seen a rapid globalization of the art world resulting in geographic decentralization and a shift away from a primarily Western perspective GAM's aim is to analyze the effect of these changes on the art market museums and art criticism This volume comprises a collection of essays by experts such as Claude Ardouin Keeper of the African Section of London's British Museum Koeki Claessens Director of Central Africa's Royal Museum and Eugene Tan Director of the Institute of Contemporary Arts Singapore who presented at the 2007 conference
