Caring For The Dying:

Caring for the Dying Henry Fersko-Weiss,2017-01-01 A gentle guide for families and caregivers Jacket Caring for a Dying Relative Derek Doyle,1994 This unique book is a clear and practical guide for relatives on all aspects of caring for a dying person focusing mainly on caring for someone at home Derek Doyle authoritatively and sympathetically covers planning care physical emotional and spiritual problems visiting in hospital and hospice communicating with health professionals dietary requirements funeral arrangements and grief and bereavement This practical yet sympathetic guide will be a useful source of information and advice for all those looking after someone with a terminal illness Surviving Death Charles Meyer,1988 Care of the Dying Patient David A. Fleming,John C. Hagan,2010-04-15 Although the need for improved care for dying patients is widely recognized and frequently discussed few books address the needs of the physicians nurses social workers therapists hospice team members and pastoral counselors involved in care Care of the Dying Patient contains material not found in other sources offering advice and solutions to anyone professional caregiver or family member confronted with incurable illness and death Its authors have lectured and published extensively on care of the dying patient and here review a wide range of topics to show that relief of physical suffering is not the only concern in providing care This collection encompasses diverse aspects of end of life care across multiple disciplines offering a broad perspective on such central issues as control of pain and other symptoms spirituality the needs of caregivers and special concerns regarding the elderly In its pages readers will find out how to effectively utilize palliative care services and activate timely referral to hospice arrange for care that takes into account patients cultural beliefs and respond to spiritual and psychological distress including the loss of hope that often overshadows physical suffering The authors especially emphasize palliative care and hospice since some physicians fear that such referrals may be viewed by patients and families as abandonment They also address ethical and legal risks in pain management and warn that fear of overprescribing pain medication may inadvertently lead to ineffective pain relief and even place the treating team at risk of liability for undertreatment of pain While physicians have the ability to treat disease they also help to determine the time and place of death and they must recognize that end of life choices are made more complex than ever before by advances in medicine and at the same time increasingly important Care of the Dying Patient addresses some of the challenges frequently confronted in terminal care and points the way toward a more compassionate way of death The End-of-Life Handbook David Feldman,S. Andrew Lasher,2008-01-01 This book offers family members caring for a dying loved one a balance of practical decision making advice medical information and emotional support for a trying time It offers readers caring and compassionate advice for making difficult decisions about end of life care Caring for the Dying Patient and the Family Janet Moscrop,Joy Robbins,2013-11-11 This third edition of a popular textbook has been completely revised by the joint editors Janet Moscrop and Joy Robbins As in previous editions the focus is on the person dying at home in residential care or in hospital and the emphasis is on teamwork in caring for the individual and their relatives and friends Experts in all aspects of care have contributed to this complete revision of the previous text and each chapter is written by a different member of the multiprofessional team The chapter on the terminal care of people suffering from AIDS has been enlarged and consideration is also given to care of those in the terminal stages of other non malignant diseases Other new material includes chapters on complementary therapy the use of the day centre the value of volunteers diversional therapy and respite care The chapter on bereavement covers many aspects of grief and loss and there is a sensitive approach to the need for supporting staff in this specialized work Consideration is also given to the needs of dying and grieving people from differing ethnic backgrounds with varying cultural expectations in a pluralistic society The third edition offers a broad overview of the support given to the dying person and the carers by medical and nursing staff physiotherapists pharmacists social workers the chaplaincy and members of the pastoral care team Students of all these disciplines should find this book both readable and informative

LIFE IN A HOSPICE ANN. RICHARDSON, 2017 Caring for Life and Death Nelda Samarel, 1991 Investigates the ways in which nurses cope with the dying patient and the acute patient who will recover Factors which influence transition between the two types of care are also examined

Compassionate Person-Centered Care for the Dying Bonnie Freeman, 2015-02-23 This groundbreaking reference for palliative care nurses is the first to provide realistic and achievable evidence based methods for incorporating compassionate and humanistic care of the dying into current standards of practice It builds on the author's research based CARES Tool a reference that synthesizes five key elements demonstrated to enable a peaceful death as free from suffering as possible Comfort Airway Management Management of Restlessness and Delirium Emotional and Spiritual Support and Self Care for Nurses The book describes step by step how nurses can easily implement the basic tenets of the CARES Tool into their end of life practice It provides a clearly defined plan that can be individualized for each patient and tailored to specific family needs and facilitates caring for the dying in the most respectful and humane way possible

Caring for the Dying Patient and the Family Joy Robbins, 1989 Caring for Dying Loved Ones Joanna Lillian Brown, 2010-01-01 A useful guide book for persons already caring for dying relatives and friends as well as those who wish to prepare for care giving responsibilities in the future

Towards Death with Dignity Sylvia Poss, 2021-11-07 The explosion of literature on the once taboo topic of death and dying in the late 1970s had tended to pass the professional social worker by Originally published in 1981 it was to fill this important gap that Towards Death with Dignity was written Not since Kubler Ross's now classic On Death and Dying has a book in the field of terminal care been informed by so much first hand experience and so much case material allowing the caregiver to learn from the dying person himself how best to help him towards a dignified death Sylvia Poss's sensitive elucidation of what the dying person must do for himself in order to master his terminal crisis was welcomed as a major contribution to psychosocial knowledge at the time Having outlined the dying person's side of the crisis she turns to the perspective of those who hope to help him towards death other patients nurses doctors paramedical staff and social workers chaplains volunteers employers relatives and friends Towards Death with Dignity focuses on three of social work's major methods social casework community work and teaching Not only does Sylvia Poss outline what may need to be done by the caregiver but she also illustrates how she further outlines how to prepare for social work in the terminal care field and suggests an effective method for teaching terminal care skills Her book also provided for the first time a synthesis of other recent work in the field to help social workers through what had become a plethora of specialist psychosocial and medical literature Towards Death with Dignity was thus a useful practical guide both for laymen and for the many professionals involved in this aspect of the health care field It will also be valuable for those who are involved personally in moving towards their own death or are being called upon to be involved in some way in the death of a relative neighbour or friend

Reichel's Care of the Elderly Christine Arenson, Jan Busby-Whitehead, Kenneth Brummel-Smith, James G. O'Brien, Mary H. Palmer, William Reichel, 2009-02-09 The sixth edition remains the pioneering text for the practising physician confronted with the unique problems of an increasingly elderly population Dr William Reichel's formative text is designed as a practical and useful guide for health specialists from medical students to practicing physicians This book is not a collection of subspecialty chapters but rather emphasizes the clinical management of the geriatric patient with simple to complex problems The editors have reviewed every chapter and have included the most up to date advances in the care of the elderly New chapters include hormonal therapy in post menopausal women drug therapy for Alzheimer's sufferers alternative medicine the chronic understaffing of nursing homes management of delirium and ethical issues Comprehensive and written for any clinicians caring for older patients including family physicians general internists nurse practitioners geriatricians and other specialists this esteemed text provides practical and trusted advice

How Do I Know You? Barbara Karnes, 2016-09 Caring for someone with dementia presents different challenges than caring for others with health care issues People with dementia don't play by the rules that signify approaching death from disease or old age This booklet outlines the issues and progress that a person with dementia will probably follow The aim of this booklet is to provide information regarding approaching end of life to those people family and significant others who are making decisions for and caring for someone with dementia It would be given to the family upon admission to the Palliative Care program or to any family that is having to address the eating and not eating dilemma Like its companions Gone From My Sight and The Eleventh Hour How Do I Know You is short written in large print and the information is conveyed in a simple direct yet gentle manner

The Hospice Movement Sandol Stoddard, 1979

A Sacred Walk Donna M. Authers, 2008 A SACRED WALK helps dispel the fear of death and draws uniquely on the experience of the dying to show how best to meet the practical emotional and spiritual needs of a loved one who is facing death Writer Donna Authers lived in fear of death from childhood well into her adult life the result of an unusual number of tragic losses in her family The miraculous story of how that fear was broken marked the start of her calling as a caregiver to others as they or their loved ones prepared to leave this world Walking alongside someone with a chronic or terminal illness is a sacred time but we usually want to be told exactly how to help Read how family friends hospice and other resources came together for Anna during her final days Heeding the end of life lessons shared in this book will show readers how best to care for their loved ones and also help them die with no regrets when their own time comes In response to reader demand the eBook version includes a Discussion Guide with questions for each chapter to help open a dialog on important related topics we tend to avoid but shouldn't

At Home with Dying Merrill Collett,1999 Most people would rather die at home surrounded by familiar sights and cared for by our loved ones than in a hospital But most of us too would be overwhelmed even frightened at the prospect of having to provide such caregiving Of the many books available about death and dying this is the first to explain in detail how caring for a dying loved one can be a life expanding experience when done mindfully and from the heart At Home with Dying is a practical guide the physical emotional and spiritual skills needed to care for someone who is terminally ill based on the principles that guide the Zen Hospice Project of the San Francisco Zen Center Merrill Collett explains step by step how to feed clean and take care of a dying person in a way that benefits both patient and caregiver The instructions which include ancient wisdom teachings as well as modern practical nursing methods include Mindfulness skills Effective pain treatments Appropriate cooking and feeding techniques Household organization and visitor management Preparation for the moment of death Working with grief

Oxford Textbook of Public Health Palliative Care Julian Abel,Allan Kellehear,2022 Death dying loss and care giving are not just medical issues but societal ones This volume explores the adoption of public health principles to palliative care including harm reduction early intervention health and well being promotion and compassionate communities

Nursing Care at the End of Life Joyce V Zerwekh,2005-12-28 Nursing Care at the End of Life Palliative Care for Patients and Families explores the deep issues of caring for the dying and suffering The book is based on the Hospice Family Caregiving Model previously published by the author and focuses on the practice implications of care for the dying The book is written in a clear and user friendly style and is ideal for undergraduate nursing students learning about dying suffering and caring for individuals and their families

Companioning You! Alan Wolfelt,2012-11-01 Based on Dr Wolfelt's unique and highly regarded philosophy of companioning versus treating mourners this self care guide for professional and lay grief caregivers emphasizes the importance of taking good care of oneself as a precursor to taking good care of others Bereavement care is draining work and remaining empathetic to the painful struggles of mourners death and dying day in and day out makes caregivers highly susceptible to burnout This book demonstrates how caring for oneself first allows one to be a more effective caregiver to others Through the advice suggestions and practices directed specifically to caregiving situations and needs caregivers will learn not to lose sight of caring for themselves as they care for others
