Without and Within Mark Pimlott, 2007 Trains, Literature, and Culture Steven D. Spalding, Benjamin Fraser, 2012-01-01 Trains Literature and Culture Reading and Writing the Rails delves into the rich connections between rail travel and the creation of cultural products from short stories to novels from photographs to travel guides and from artistic manifestos of the avant garde to Freud s psychology Each of the contributions engages in critical readings of textual or visual representations of trains across a wide spectrum of time periods and traditions from English and American to Mexican West African and European literary cultures By turns trope metaphor and emblem of technological progress these textual and visual representations of the train serve at times to index racial and gender inequalities to herald the arrival of a nation s independence and at still others to evince the trauma of industrialization In each instance the figure of the train emerges as a complex narrative form engaged by artists who were Reading Writing the Rails as a way of assessing the competing discursive investments of cultural modernity Pilgrimage to the National Parks Lynn Ross-Bryant, 2013 National Parks America s Best Idea were from the first seen as sacred sites embodying the God given specialness of American people and American land and from the first they were also marked as tourist attractions The inherent tensions between these two realities ensured the parks would be stages where the country s conflicting values would be performed and contested As pilgrimage sites embody the values and beliefs of those who are drawn to them so Americans could travel to these sacred places to honor experience and be restored by the powers that had created the American land and the American enterprise This book explores the importance of the discourse of nature in American culture arguing that the attributes and symbolic power that had first been associated with the new world and then the frontier were embodied in the National Parks Author Ross Bryant focuses on National Parks as pilgrimage sites around which a discourse of nature developed and argues the centrality of religion in understanding the dynamics of both the language and the ritual manifestations related to National Parks Beyond the specific contribution to a richer analysis of the National Parks and their role in understanding nature and religion in the U S this volume contributes to the emerging field of religion and the environment larger issues in the study of religion e g cultural events and the spatial element in meaning making and the study of non institutional religion Light as Experience and Imagination from Medieval to Modern Times David S. Herrstrom, 2022-11-21 In Light as Experience and Imagination from Medieval to Modern Times David S Herrstrom synthesizes and interprets the experience of light as revealed in a wide range of art and literature from medieval to modern times The true subject of the book is making sense of the individual s relationship with light rather than the investigation of light s essential nature while telling the story of light seducing individuals from the Middle Ages to our modern times Consequently it is not concerned with the progress of scientific inquiries into the physical properties and behavior of light optical science but rather with subjective reactions as reflected in art architecture and literature Instead of its evolution this book celebrates the complexity of our relation to light s character No individual experience of light being truer than any other

Pioneer Photographers of the Far West Peter E. Palmquist, Thomas R. Kailbourn, 2000 This extraordinarily comprehensive well documented biographical dictionary of some 1 500 photographers and workers engaged in photographically related pursuits active in western North America before 1865 is enriched by some 250 illustrations Far from being simply a reference tool the book provides a rich trove of fascinating narratives that cover both the professional and personal lives of a colorful cast of characters

A Keener Perception Alan C. Braddock, Christoph Irmscher, 2009 A landmark collection of essays on the intersections of visual art cultural studies and environmental history in America Issues of ecology both as they appear in the works of nature writers and in the works of literary writers for whom place and the land are central issues have long been of interest to literary critics and have given rise over the last two decades to the now firmly established field of ecocriticism The essays in this volume written by art historians and literary critics seek to bring the study of American art into the expanding discourse of ecocriticism A Keener Perception offers a series of case studies on topics ranging from John White s watercolors of the Carolina landscape executed during Sir Walter Raleigh s 1585 Roanoke expedition to photographs by environmental activist Eliot Porter Rather than merely resurrect past instances of ecologically attuned art this volume features essays that resituate many canonical figures such as Thomas Eakins Aaron Douglas and Thomas Cole in an ecocritical light by which they have yet to be viewed Studying such artists and artworks through an ecocritical lens not only provides a better understanding of these works and the American landscape but also brings a new interpretive paradigm to the field of art history a field that many of these critics believe would do well to embrace environmental concerns as a vital area of research In highlighting the work of scholars who bring ecological agendas to their study of American art as well as providing models for literary scholars who might like to better incorporate the visual arts into their own scholarship and teaching A Keener Perception is truly a landmark collection timely consequential and controversial

Photography and the Making of the American West Paul Clee, 2003 Looks at the early history of photography in the United States the photographers who recorded life on the frontier and how their vision and artistry shaped public opinion about the West
