Families - Beyond the Nuclear Ideal Daniela Cutas, Sarah Chan, 2012-11-22 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com This book examines through a multi disciplinary lens the possibilities offered by relationships and family forms that challenge the nuclear family ideal and some of the arguments that recommend or disqualify these as legitimate units in our societies That children should be conceived naturally born to and raised by their two young heterosexual married to each other genetic parents that this relationship between parents is also the ideal relationship between romantic or sexual partners and that romance and sexual intimacy ought to be at the core of our closest personal relationships all these elements converge towards the ideal of the nuclear family The authors consider a range of relationship and family structures that depart from this ideal polyamory and polygamy single and polyparenting parenting by gay and lesbian couples as well as families created through assisted human reproduction

Troubling Criminology Michael C. K. Ma, Mike Larsen, 2025-10-14 Crime doesn't happen in a vacuum but in the complex world we all live in In Troubling Criminology professors Michael C K Ma and Mike Larsen untangle the discipline of criminology in a series of insightful conversations Rather than presenting a fixed canon of knowledge this book encourages readers to draw on their own experiences and perspectives fostering dialogue and collaborative thinking It examines how crime justice and deviance are socially constructed shaped by historical and cultural contexts and influenced by power inequality and systemic oppression Perfect for students and educators alike this book is not just a textbook it's an invitation to join an ongoing conversation about what criminology means today to help us envision a more just future
