The Cinema of Norman Mailer Justin Bozung, 2017-09-07 The Cinema of Norman Mailer Film is Like Death not only examines the enfant terrible writer's thoughts on cinema but also features interviews with Norman Mailer himself The Cinema of Norman Mailer also explores Mailer's cinema through previously published and newly commissioned essays written by an array of film and literary scholars enthusiasts and those with a personal philosophical connection to Mailer This volume discusses the National Book Award and Pulitzer Prize winning author and filmmaker's six films created during the years of 1947 and 1987 and contends to show how Mailer's films can be best read as cinematic delineations that visually represent many of the writer's metaphysical and ontological concerns and ideas that appear in his texts from the 1950s until his passing in 2007 By re-examining Mailer's cinema through these new perspectives one may be awarded not just a deeper understanding of Mailer's desire to make films but also find a new alternative vision of Mailer himself Norman Mailer was not just a writer but more he was one of the most influential Postmodern artists of the twentieth century with deep roots in the cinema He allowed the cinema to not only influence his aesthetic approach but sanctioned it as his easiest crafted analogy for exploring sociological imagination in his writing Mailer once suggested Film is legitimately more interesting than books and with that in mind readers of Norman Mailer might begin to rethink his oeuvre through the viewfinder of the film medium as he was equally as passionate about working within cinema as he was about literature itself The 1961-1970: American Film Institute Catalog of Motion Pictures Produced in the United States American Film Institute, 1997 Back in print after more than fifteen years this American Film Institute Catalog covers the decade of the sixties This was the era in which films began to challenge the taboos on sex and violence and treated social issues in a new light Included in this volume are The Wild Bunch Bonnie and Clyde Guess Who's Coming to Dinner and Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf The decade also produced such all time classics as The Sound of Music To Kill a Mockingbird and The Graduate The International Film Index, 1895-1990: Film titles Alan Goble, 1991 Film Composers in America Clifford McCarty, 2000 Film Composers in America is a landmark in the history of film Here renowned film scholar Clifford McCarty has attempted to identify every known composer who wrote background musical scores for films in the United States between 1911 and 1970 With information on roughly 20 000 films the book is an essential tool for serious students of film and a treasure trove for film fans It spans all types of American films from features shorts cartoons and documentaries to nontheatrical works avant garde films and even trailers Meticulously researched over 45 years the book documents the work of more than 1 500 composers from Robert Abramson to Josiah Zuro including the first to score an American film Walter C Simon It includes not only Hollywood professionals but also many composers of concert music as well as popular music and other genres whose cinematic work has never before been fully catalogued The book also features an index that lets readers quickly find the composer for any American film through 1970 To recover this history much of which was lost or never recorded McCarty
