Caravan for China Frank S. Stuart,1941      Caravan for China Frank Stanley Stuart,1939      Caravan Across China James Marvin Weller,1984      History of Economic Relations between Russia and China M.I. Sladkovskii,2017-07-05 This book was originally written as a historical treatise to demonstrate that the development of economic ties between Russia and China is the logical outcome of a centuries old friendship between these neighboring peoples a friendship which accords with their fundamental interests and is of general benefit to all mankind In the post Soviet and post Maoist era these consensual tendencies are even stronger The original publication of this translation in 1966 when its central thesis had long been abandoned and refuted by both sides is still of value and not just as an ironic comment on the theorists and systemizers of history For this better examples are already available in every book shop and on the shelves of every library Rather the work demonstrates that sharing a common socialist ideology is insufficient to overcome animosities of history and national rivalries The student of Sino Soviet relations will find much of interest here The book still represents a work of considerable scholarship even though its ostensible raison d'être has been abolished Armed with the knowledge that the protagonists have accepted some of the author's reservations and have reversed their positions on a number of points objectionable to him the reader will be able to achieve a clear and comprehensive understanding of the subject Partisanship was never particularly subtle in debates within Marxist or Maoist circles The virulence of the language in some sections of the book which have been rendered accurately with no toning down provides the reader with an insight into the background of China's continuing intransigence in international policies      China Robert Waln,1823      Chengli and the Silk Road Caravan Hildi Kang,2011-09-08 Chengli is an orphaned errand boy who lives in Chang'an China in 630 A.D. His mother has died from illness and his father is presumed dead after disappearing into the desert when Chengli was a baby Now thirteen Chengli feels ready for independence He is drawn to the desert beckoned by the howling of strange winds and the hope of learning something about his father who he was and how he died Chengli joins a caravan to travel down the merchant route known as the Silk Road but it is a dangerous life as his father knew The desert is harsh and there are many bandits interested in Chengli's caravan because a princess her servants and royal guards are traveling with them But the desert is full of amazing places and life changing experiences as the feisty princess learns the meaning of friendship and Chengli learns the heroism of which he is capable      A Caravan from China Comes ... Alice Barnett,1924      Caravan to China Carol Gaskin,1987 Young readers join Marco Polo and travel to the court of Kublai Khan to find out why Polo's overland route to China became lost to Europeans for almost three centuries      The Wolf Boy of China William Dalton,1879      China, the Long-lived Empire Eliza Ruhamah Scidmore,1900      The National Review, China ,1912      China Digest ,1930      Travels in Tartary, Thibet and China During the Years 1844-5-6 Evariste Régis Huc,1900      The Week in China ,1929      China Great Britain.
