Caribbean Romances:

Caribbean Romances Belinda Edmondson, 1999 Ten young scholars from a variety of disciplines explore how the concept of romance initially constructed in the imperial imagination of Europe and America is employed within contemporary Caribbean popular culture and literature to idealize the newly independent postcolonial societies of the region Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Caribbean Romances Belinda Edmondson, 1999 This interdisciplinary volume on postcolonial Caribbean culture brings together ten essays by exciting young scholars who challenge some of the established assumptions of postcolonial studies The contributors look at ways in which the romance trope is employed within contemporary Caribbean popular culture and literature to idealize the newly independent postcolonial societies of the region The essays situate this discourse of idealization in its historical and cultural contexts and reveal how it is a reinvention of the old romance initially constructed in the imperial imagination of Europe and America

Travel and Colonialism in 21st Century Romantic Historical Fiction Paloma Fresno-Calleja, Hsu-Ming Teo, 2024-12-16 Romantic fiction has often involved stories of travel In narratives of the journey towards love romance often involves encounters with exotic places and peoples When history is invoked in such stories the past itself is exoticised and treated as other to the present to serve the purposes of romanticisation a narrative strategy by which all manner of things settings characters costumes customs consumables are made to perform a luxuriant otherness that amplifies the experience of love This volume questions the reparative function of Anglophone romantic historical fiction to ask can plots of travel and discourses of tourism empower women while narrating stories of healing for the wounds of the past This is the first volume to consider how romanticised and exoticised women s historical fiction not only serves the purposes of armchair travel but may also replicate colonial discourse unintentionally positioning readers as neocolonial neo Orientalist cultural voyeurs as well as voyagers

Intercultural Couples Terri A. Karis, Kyle D. Killian, 2011-02-14 While cross cultural relations were once assumed to be inherently problematic in recent years these couples have increased in both numbers and social acceptance and there is now a growing awareness of how little we really know about them Addressing this gap in our knowledge this book presents 12 chapters focusing on cross cultural couple formations i e a partner from the U S and another from abroad Highlighting both the struggles and successes of couples this book challenges the principle of homogamy helping the reader gain a deeper understanding and respect for intercultural couples The chapters tackle a broad range of topics and issues including systemic considerations of the phenomenon of cross cultural couples bilingual couples interfaith relationships struggles in such couple formations different methods of approaching solutions and the use of the internet to meet partners from diverse backgrounds

Queer Rebellion in the Novels of Michelle Cliff Kaisa Ilmonen, 2017-05-11 This book explores Jamaican American author Michelle Cliff s 1946 2016 literary rebellion against the colonial gendered and racist norms of Western Modernity It studies the sexualized circuits of the Atlantic world drawing on the fields of literary criticism feminist theories queer studies and

Caribbean studies In order to do this the book develops the theoretical paradigm of intersectionality It also addresses the disturbing questions concerning the sexual politics of transatlantic modernity as represented in Cliff s novels Cliff s rebellious poetics envisions the colonial Caribbean past in new ways Her novels tell stories about Caribbean queer characters setting the queer as a site of postcolonial agency and as a perspective out of which colonial history can be re written This book considers myths rites and cultural memory as sites of healing in the midst of colonial bodily politics Transnational histories identity and ethics emerge as intertwined in Cliff s feminist novels Arrivals and Departures Otto Latva,Heta Lähdesmäki,Kirsi Sonck-Rautio,Harri Uusitalo,2024-09-23 This book explores the human relationship to changing biodiversity by bringing together multidisciplinary insights into human nature relations from the humanities New animal and plant species arrive and previously existing ones may disappear However the historical and social perspectives of the changes have been understudied so far This book approaches the human relationship with changing biodiversity from three different angles belonging and non belonging emotions and environmental policy The question of belonging and non belonging is crucial when it comes to changing biodiversity The authors ask who decides where species can move and live and when invasive becomes native Similarly emotions have a big role in human nature relations The book shows why we grieve the loss of some species and hate some other species and how our emotions change over time The writers also aim to show how environmental policies or the practice of governing species are affected by societal discussion emotions scientific research and topical concepts as well as how these policies shape biodiversity and our perceptions of different species The authors provide fresh insights into human nature relations and explain why we need multidisciplinary approaches in order to fully understand their complexity Twelve Romances of the Sea and Tales of the Buccaneers and Pirates ,1871
