

PHILIPPINE MYTHICAL CREATURES

by Jimuel B. Villamente BSEd – 2

The Philippines is home to a rich and varied mythology, filled with a wide range of intriguing and fascinating creatures. From shape-shifting aswangs to mischievous nuno sa punso, these mythological beings have long been a part of Philippine folklore and continue to be a source of fascination for people around the world. In this article, we will explore some of the most well-known mythological creatures in the Philippines.

ASWANG – One of the most feared creatures in Philippine mythology is the aswang, a shape-shifting creature that is said to prey on humans. Aswangs are said to be able to transform into various forms, including the tik-tik, a bird-like creature that makes a distinctive clicking sound, and the manananggal, a half-human, half-bat creature that can fly and detach its upper body from its lower half. Aswangs are believed to be nocturnal creatures that feed on the blood of humans, and are often depicted as being able to take on the appearance of ordinary people in order to blend in and catch their prey.

BAKUNAWA – also known as Bakonawa or Bakonaua, is a mythical sea serpent or dragon in Philippine mythology. It is believed to be the cause of eclipses and is associated with the moon. According to legend, Bakunawa lived in the depths of the sea and had the ability to swallow the moon, causing an eclipse. It is said that the Bakunawa would rise from the depths of the ocean and try to swallow the moon during a full moon. The people of the Philippines believed that making noise, such as by banging on pots and pans, would scare the Bakunawa away and prevent it from swallowing the moon.

KAPRE – Another well-known mythological creature in the Philippines is the kapre, a giant, tobacco-smoking creature that is often depicted as a mischievous trickster. Kapres are said to be fond of playing pranks on humans, and are often depicted as being able to take on various forms and sizes. They are also believed to have the power to make themselves invisible, which they use to their advantage when playing tricks on people. Despite their mischievous nature, kapres are generally depicted as being benign and not harmful to humans.

Creatures of Philippine Lower Mythology Maximo D. Ramos,1971 The Creatures of Philippine Lower Mythology
Maximo D. Ramos,1990-01-31 IMAGINARY CREATURES depicted in a people s lower mythology are one of the most important phenomena in their belief systems This is because the common folk in particular must strive to maintain harmonious relations with these creatures a continuous process that permeates many aspects of their everyday lives and requires the intercession of a special person in the community who acts as the medium of communication between them The subject of Maximo D Ramos s work is the creatures of Philippine lower mythology as this level of folklore is called In undertaking this study Dr Ramos directed his efforts to two principal tasks 1 making a taxonomic classification of all the beings which in his opinion fall within the framework of the problem as found in Philippine folk beliefs and 2 correlating the implications of these beliefs in terms of these classifications to education particularly on the elementary level The taxonomic classification is intended to help clear up the confusion that attended earlier studies of these creatures This is indeed the first attempt to systematize the identities of these Philippine mythological beings for the benefit of folklore scholarship More specifically Ramos writes Where names traits and functions appear to have become confused through the process of transfer that constantly occurs in traditional lore it was thought fruitful to point these out and then attempt to account for them In spite of the very extensive Christianization of the Filipinos particularly the lowlanders these mythical entities still persist in their traditional belief systems hence the student of folk traditions cannot ignore them if he is to achieve greater relevance in his studies Little by little the perspective from which these creatures have been traditionally viewed is bound to change until they are accepted as part of our cultural heritage This change is bringing about an understanding of these creatures function in our society The present work is primarily taxonomic in nature but it sheds light into many of the dark corners of Philippine folklore studies and brings to the reader a fuller understanding of the most maligned inhabitants of the Philippine other world Herein lies the major contribution of Dr Ramos a basic recognition and a deeper insight into the cultural heritage of the Filipino Creatures of Philippine Lower Mythology Maximo D. Ramos,1990 The Creatures of Midnight Maximo D. Ramos,1990-01-10 This book tells about 85 creatures of legend from Philippine Folklore Many people believe that they exist and are afraid of them The people of the ancient Philippines believed many things about the unseen creatures of the Philippine storyland If you have met a good storyteller he may have told you interesting legends about these creatures And you may have asked a lot of questions about them which he could not answer If you want to know more about these beings turn the pages of this book look at the pictures and enjoy what is said about them We call them creatures of midnight because it is said that they show themselves to people about the middle of the night The Aswang Synchrony in Philippine Folklore Maximo D.
