Dictionary of Taoist Internal Alchemy Fabrizio Pregadio,2024-10-28 This dictionary offers a unique perspective on the vast and varied terminology of Taoist Internal

Alchemy Neidan Drawing on major original texts and premodern lexicons it provides translations definitions and usage examples for over a thousand terms common throughout the tradition A comprehensive index of English equivalents allows readers to easily locate the corresponding Chinese terms Beyond serving as a reference for those reading studying or translating Neidan texts the dictionary's entries offer glimpses into the rich imagery and poetic language of Internal Alchemy

Just Happy Grace Keon,1920      Comparative Mysticism Steven T. Katz,2013 This collection of primary texts introduces readers to the mystical literature of the world's great religious traditions Beginning with an introduction by Steven T Katz a leading scholar of mysticism the anthology comprises poetry prayer narrative and other writings from Jewish Christian Muslim Hindu Buddhist Taoist Confucianist and Native American traditions This collection provides readers not only with the primary mystical texts from each religious tradition but with an explanation of the context of the source and tradition Comparative Mysticism shows how the great mystical traditions of the world are deeply rooted in the religious traditions from which they originated The contextual methodological approach taken throughout the anthology also addresses the critical question of what these mystical traditions at their highest level have in common Despite the prevailing view that mystical traditions throughout the world are essentially similar the presentation of the sources in this volume suggests that in fact the various traditions have distinct teachings and different metaphysical goals The writings collected in Comparative Mysticism address the most fundamental and important methodological epistemological and hermeneutical questions regarding the study and interpretation of mysticism and mystical sources across cultures This anthology will be an invaluable resource to students and scholars of mystic tradition for years to come      A Library of Clouds J. Pettit,Chao-jan Chang,2020-09-30 From early times Daoist writers claimed to receive scriptures via revelation from heavenly beings In numerous cases these writings were composed over the course of many nights and by different mediums New revelations were often hastily appended and the resulting unevenness gave rise to the impression that Daoist texts often appear slapdash and contain contradictions A Library of Clouds focuses on the re writing of Daoist scriptures in the Upper Clarity Shangqing lineage in fourth and fifth century China Scholarship on Upper Clarity Daoism has been dominated by attempts to uncover original or authentic texts which has resulted in the neglect of later scriptures including the work fully translated and annotated here the Scripture of the Immaculate Numen one of the Three Wonders sanqi and among the most prized Daoist texts in medieval China The scripture's lack of a coherent structure and its different authorial voices have led many to see it not as a unified work but the creation of different editors who shaped and reshaped it over time A Library of Clouds constructs new ways of understanding the complex authorship of texts like the Scripture of the Immaculate Numen and their place in early medieval Daoism It stresses their significance in understanding the ways in which manuscripts were written received and distributed in early medieval China By situating the scripture within its immediate hagiographic and ritual contexts it suggests that this kind of revelatory literature is best understood as a pastiche of ideas a process of weaving
