Weisberg,1993 In this volume Robert Weisberg demystifies the phenomenon of creativity Backed with case studies psychological research findings and investigations of the work of some of history s most creative personalities Newton Edison Picasso Mozart and others Weisberg demonstrates that creative thinking is an extension of our normal mental capacity that the roots of genius lie in all of us Creativity and Innovation in Business and Beyond Leon Mann,Janet Chan,2011-02 Creativity and Innovation in Business and Beyond illustrates the ways in which creativity spurs innovation not only in the realms of business and management where the innovation is regularly acknowledged and discussed but throughout the social sciences With contributions from experts in fields as far flung as policy history economics law psychology and education in addition to business and management this volume explores the manifold avenues for creativity and innovation within and across a multitude of disciplines Beyond the Creative Species Oliver Bown,2021-02-23 A multidisciplinary introduction to the field of computational creativity analyzing the impact of advanced generative technologies on art and music As algorithms get smarter what role will computers play in the creation of music art and other cultural artifacts Will they be able to create such things from the ground up and will such creations be meaningful In Beyond the Creative Species Oliver Bown offers a multidisciplinary examination of computational creativity analyzing the impact of advanced generative technologies on art and music Drawing on a wide range of disciplines including artificial intelligence and machine learning design social theory the psychology of creativity and creative practice research Bown argues that to understand computational creativity we must not only consider what computationally creative algorithms actually do but also examine creative artistic activity itself Understanding World, Other, and Self beyond the Anthropological Paradigm Martin Pasgaard-Westerman,2018-09-10 Pasgaard Westerman rethinks the ontological and epistemological understanding of world other and self by opposing the general anthropological paradigm within contemporary philosophy Signs and interpretations are not functions of Man instead Man is conceived as certain signo interpretational relations to world other and self Opposing more traditional hermeneutical approaches the signo interpretational relations towards world other and self are understood as a skeptical disposition This skeptical disposition undercuts usual epistemological problems of skepticism and instead designates the permanent incompleteness of the process of interpretation and formulates an ethical imperative This ethical imperative aims at an active dissolution of fixed signs an openness towards other signs and the holding back of definite interpretations The book discusses how world appear as a sign world how the other appear within interpretational patterns and how our signs of self are experienced Discussing a wide range of epistemological and ontological questions and taking into account the perspectives of a broad range of philosophical traditions a signo interpretational account of reality world versions other persons and self is presented
