Collier Schorr: Jens F. Collier Schorr, 2005 Essay by Collier Schorr Interview with Jens F Appropriating Desire Katherine A. Pill, 2010 In her artist's book Jens F photographer Collier Schorr uses Andrew Wyeth's exhibition and more specifically exhibition catalogue entitled The Helga Pictures 1986 as material for a series that allows for an act of appropriation and recreation that takes place across gender time and medium Schorr's use of the book format is complex as issues of gender sexuality identification and desire are intimately displayed in serial form Her work is often discussed in terms of gender performativity and a complicating not just deconstruction of gender and desired other There is a subtlety to the sexualities she represents that make her photographs unique but there is also a high degree of fantasy to her work that is not always apparent on the surface as Schorr studies in great detail the male body she is curious about and will never inhabit and histories that she will never know personally In Jens F the fantastical element is made more explicit as Schorr inserts herself aggressively into each page mimicking the desire and power of Andrew Wyeth and introducing a complex form of subjectivity to the act of appropriation Schorr's use of appropriation stands in stark contrast to its functions of the 1980s as she allows for a new positive reading of Wyeth's work and its position within art history That is Schorr does not use appropriation as a means of critiquing the male artist she instead creates a framework that allows for a close examination and largely positive rereading of Wyeth's work while also complicating the role of desire in artistic practice Various aspects of cultural hierarchies are brought to the forefront in Jens F as Schorr has laboriously copied each of the more than 240 drawings and paintings that were shunned from a number of museums in the 1980s The Helga Pictures created media frenzy including a cover story in Time Magazine in 1987 The book was a popular success and became the first art exhibition catalogue to be selected for the Book of the Month Club in July 1987 Jens F on the other hand was produced in limited edition of 1000 each signed by the artist The third chapter of this thesis provides an overview of appropriation theory from the 1980s giving context to its current definitions and functions and to its relationship to Schorr's work Why Art Photography? Lucy Soutter, 2018-01-17 The second edition of Why Art Photography is an updated expanded introduction to the ideas behind today's striking photographic images Lively accessible discussions of key issues such as ambiguity objectivity fiction authenticity and photography's expanding field are supplemented with new material around timely topics such as globalization selfie culture and photographers use of advanced digital technologies including CGI and virtual reality The new edition includes an expanded introduction extended chapters featuring emerging trends a larger selection of images including new color images an improved and expanded bibliography This new edition is essential for students looking to enrich their understanding of photography as a complex and multi-faceted art form Skin in the Game Clémentine Deliss, 2023-12-13 Skin in the Game follows on from the acclaimed fieldwork diary The Metabolic Museum In this new book Clémentine Deliss expands on how artists understand risk and contention both in their work and with regard to historical

Landscapes of Holocaust Postmemory Brett Ashley Kaplan, 2011-01-13 How do the spaces of the past stay with us through representations whether literary or photographic How has the Holocaust registered in our increasingly globally connected consciousness What does it mean that this European event is often used as an interpretive or representational touchstone for genocides and traumas globally In this interdisciplinary study Kaplan asks and attempts to answer these questions by looking at historically and geographically diverse spaces photographs and texts concerned with the physical and or mental landscape of the Holocaust and its transformations from the postwar period to the
