Development of Nominal Inflection in First Language Acquisition Ursula Stephany, Maria D. Voeikova,2009-07-14 This book deals with the emergence of nominal morphology from a cross linguistic perspective and is closely related to Development of Verb Inflection in First Language Acquisition ed by D Bittner W U Dressler M Kilani Schoch both methodologically and theoretically Each of the fourteen contributions studies the early development of the fundamental inflectionally expressed categories of the noun number case gender in one of the languages belonging to different morphological types isolating fusional inflecting agglutinating root inflecting and families Germanic Romance Slavic Baltic Greek Finnic Turc Semitic Indian American The analyses are based on parallel longitudinal observations of children in their second and early third year of life as well as their input The focus lies on the transition from a pre morphological to a proto morphological stage in which grammatical oppositions and so called mini paradigms begin to develop The point at which children start to discover the morphological structure of their language and the speed with which they develop inflectional distinctions of lexical items has been found to be dependent on the morphological richness of the input language on the paradigmatic as well as the syntagmatic axis of linguistic structure The findings are interpreted within non nativist theoretical frameworks Natural Morphology Usage based theories
