Athens Age Old And Contemporary:

Colour and Light in Ancient and Medieval Art Chloë N. Duckworth, Anne E. Sassin, 2017-12-15 The myriad ways in which colour and light have been adapted and applied in the art architecture and material culture of past societies is the focus of this interdisciplinary volume Light and colour s iconographic economic and socio cultural implications are considered by established and emerging scholars including art historians archaeologists and conservators who address the variety of human experience of these sensory phenomena In today s world it is the norm for humans to be surrounded by strong artificial colours and even to see colour as perhaps an inessential or surface property of the objects around us Similarly electric lighting has provided the power and ability to illuminate and manipulate environments in increasingly unprecedented ways In the context of such a saturated experience it becomes difficult to identify what is universal and what is culturally specific about the human experience of light and colour Failing to do so however hinders the capacity to approach how they were experienced by people of centuries past By means of case studies spanning a broad historical and geographical context and covering such diverse themes as architecture cave art the invention of metallurgy and medieval manuscript illumination the contributors to this volume provide an up to date discussion of these themes from a uniquely interdisciplinary perspective The papers range in scope from the meaning of colour in European prehistoric art to the technical art of the glazed tiles of the Shah mosque in Isfahan Their aim is to explore a multifarious range of evidence and to evaluate and illuminate what is a truly enigmatic topic in the history of art and visual culture The Library of Oratory, Ancient and Modern Nathan Haskell Dole, Chauncey Mitchell Depew, Caroline Ticknor, Thomas Charles Quinn, 1902 The Library of Oratory, Ancient and Modern Chauncey Mitchell Depew, Nathan Haskell Dole, Caroline Ticknor, Thomas Charles Quinn, 1902 The Contemporary Review , 1925 Visualizing the Street Pedram Dibazar, Judith Naeff, 2025-10-01 From user generated images of streets to professional architectural renderings and from digital maps and drone footages to representations of invisible digital ecologies this collection of essays analyses the emergent practices of visualizing the street Today advancements in digital technologies of the image have given rise to the production and dissemination of imagery of streets and urban realities in multiple forms The ubiquitous presence of digital visualizations has in turn created new forms of urban practice and modes of spatial encounter Everyone who carries a smartphone not only plays an increasingly significant role in the production editing and circulation of images of the street but also relies on those images to experience urban worlds and to navigate in them Such entangled forms of image making and image sharing have constructed new imaginaries of the street and have had a significant impact on the ways in which contemporary and future streets are understood imagined documented navigated mediated and visualized Visualizing the Street investigates the social and cultural significance of these new developments at the intersection of visual culture and urban space The interdisciplinary essays provide new concepts theories and research methods that combine close analyses of street images and imaginaries with the study of the practices of their production and circulation The book covers a wide range of visible and invisible geographies From Hong Kong s streets to Rio s favelas from Sydney s suburbs to London s street markets and from Damascus war torn streets to Istanbul s sidewalks and engages with multiple ways in which visualizations of the street function to document street protests and urban change to build imaginaries of urban communities and alternate worlds and to help navigate streetscapes
