easier when you don't have to deal with handling physical products. When you dropship, you have no worries about paying for or managing a warehouse, packing and shipping your customers' orders, tracking the inventory for accounting purposes, handling inbound shipments or any returns physically, repeatedly ordering products and maintaining stock levels, needing a storage place to hold physical products, or low overheads. Because there is no reason to deal with purchasing any inventory or the management of a warehouse, your overheads and business expenses can be quite small. Many successful dropshipping companies are run from home offices with a single computer for less than 100 per month. As your business grows, it's likely these expenses will increase, but nonetheless, they will still be low when compared to traditional brick and mortar companies. Dropshipping businesses can be run from almost anywhere as long as you have an internet connection. This is vital to allow communication with your suppliers and your customers both quickly and efficiently. Many successful online stores are run by people when they live outside of their home country too. Because there is no need to pre-purchase any items you sell, you can offer a broader array of products to potential customers. So if your supplier stocks a certain product, you can list it for sale in your online store or on the platform you use at no additional cost. With conventional business types, if you have orders for three times as much business, it is likely you'll need to perform three times as much work. With the leveraging of dropshipping suppliers, the majority of the work in processing additional orders is borne by your suppliers. This allows you to expand your business with fewer growing pains. Sales growth always brings some extra work. In most cases, this is primarily related to customer service. Companies that exploit dropshipping as a necessity scale exceptionally well, especially when compared to conventional e-commerce businesses. All of these benefits make dropshipping an advantageous and efficient model to both new and established merchants alike. Regrettably, dropshipping isn't always a bed of roses though. All this convenience and flexibility comes with a few disadvantages. Let's shed some light on these.

Dropship Guide for Beginners Bri,2015-05-05 Today s savvy e commerce business owner knows how to compete In years past a business shopper for the products they wanted to resell They then purchased the items and stored them while they searched for an end user or consumer Once the product was sold they shipped the item to their customer and hopefully made a profit This method is costly Besides the price of the item the seller pays shipping from the manufacturer or distributor to his location He then stores the item taking up resources and space until he resells the merchandise He invests time and effort into marketing the item and either he or the end user pays shipping again to their location All of these steps have to be factored into the price of the item to the end user The customer will decide if the end price of the item is a bargain and is competitive As the shipper if the item is lost or damaged in shipping the expense of filing tracking and claims falls on him as well Drop Shipping is a proven way of reducing or eliminating many of these expenses thus making the end price lower for the consumer and more profitable for the seller With drop shipping a seller or retailer does not purchase the item and store it for resell but rather sells the merchandise and ships it directly from the manufacturer to the consumer The seller does not have to store the item or pay shipping from the manufacture to his location He does not have to handle the item himself This reduces chance of loss or damage and speeds up the process considerably He needs less start up money storage rental can be very costly and a product on hand that moves slower than anticipated can create a cash flow problem right out of the gate and can invest more time and money on his sales He also does not have to reship the item and there is only one shipping expense to absorb lowering the price of the item and making it of more value and profit for all concerned If there is loss or damage in shipping it falls on the manufacturer or distributor to provide the documents and file any claims with the shipping company involved Okay so all of this sounds great right But how do you get started This eBook will teach you how So let s get started
