An Interlude With Seagulls Memories Of A Long Kesh Internee:

An Interlude with Seagulls Bobby Devlin, 1985 Two Irelands Rebecca Pelan, 2005-06-27 The very different histories of the North and South are reflected in their literature While women in the Republic of Ireland have tended to write about social issues sexism crime unemployment and domestic violence women in Northern Ireland focused on their society's historical tension and primarily nationalist and unionist politics However Pelan maintains that feminist ideology has provided contemporary Irish women with an alternate political stance that incorporates gender and nationality ethnicity and allows them to move beyond the usual binaries of politics history and language Irish and English In an analysis enriched by a sophisticated but accessible engagement with contemporary feminist and gender theory Pelan concludes that Irish women's writing whether at the community or mainstream level North or South consistently articulates political issues of direct relevance to the lives of Irish women today As a result such work retains close links with the initial impetus of the second wave of feminism as a political movement and questions the legitimacy of long standing social religious and political conventions From within the framework provided by this second wave argues Pelan Irish women can critique certain masculine ideologies nationalist unionist imperialist and capitalist without forfeiting their own sense of gender and national or ethnic identity The book's significance lies in its placement of women's writing in the center of contemporary political discourse in Ireland and in ensuring that the writing from this period much of it long out of print continues to exist as sociological as well as literary records It will be of interest to a general and scholarly audience especially those in the fields of contemporary Irish writing feminism and literary history Contemporary Irish Republican Prison Writing L. Whalen, 2007-11-26 As it traces the textual history of the works of authors like Bobby Sands and Gerry Adams this book analyses Republican resistance to disciplinary structures demonstrating the ways in which prisoners appropriate space through discursive strategies Where Grieving Begins Patrick Magee, 2021-02-20 An enduring peace is only possible through a genuine understanding of the past To understand the Troubles is to set them in the context of the historical root causes of the conflict in order to grapple with its pain and its horrors to grieve and then perhaps to heal This is the memoir of Patrick Magee the man who planted the 1984 Brighton bomb an attempt by the Provisional IRA to kill the British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and her cabinet In an unflinching reckoning with the past Magee recounts the events of his life He chronicles the profound experience of meeting Jo Berry whose father was one of five people killed in the bombing and the extraordinary work they have done together A chasm of misunderstanding endures around the Troubles and the history of British rule in Ireland This memoir builds a bridge to a common understanding It is written in the belief that anything is possible when there is honesty inclusion and dialogue Last Night Another Soldier- Alistair Renwick, 1989 Journal of Commonwealth and Postcolonial Studies , 2000 Marxism Today , 1986 Breaking Enmities P. Grant, 2016-07-27

This book discusses relationships among religion literature and ethnicity in Northern Ireland since 1967 The introduction provides a theoretical account of how literature engages sectarian prejudices allowing these to be played out in ways that can help to dissolve or mitigate the alienating effects of traditional enmities Subsequent chapters deal with identity endogamy education gender and imprisonment Each chapter combines an analysis of specific cultural issues with a critical assessment of relevant works by key authors A conclusion offers an assessment of relationships between Northern Ireland and other modern societies facing analogous problems in a post modern world marked by rapid globalisation

The Politics of Identity James W. McAuley, 1994 This book focuses on the politics and ideology of Belfast's Protestant working class It begins by considering the dominant conceptual typologies of that social grouping as constructed by the left in Ireland It then looks in detail at the social structure and politics of the Protestant working class community Ballymac

Lost Lives David McKittrick, 2001 This is a unique work filled with passion and violence with humanity and inhumanity It is the story of the Northern Ireland troubles told through the lives of those who have suffered and the deaths which have resulted from the conflict

Labour Research, 1985 Books Ireland, 1984 Whitaker's Cumulative Book List, 1985
