Theory of Slow Atomic Collisions E.E. Nikitin, S.Y. Umanskii, 2012-12-06 The theory of atom molecule collisions is one of the basic fields in chemical physics Its most challenging part the dynamics of chemical reactions is as yet unresolved but is developing very quickly It is here a great help to have an analysis of those parts of collision theory which are already complete a good example being the theory of atomic collisions in processes specific to chemical physics It has long been observed that many notions of this theory can also be applied successfully to reactive and unreactive molecular collisions More over atomic collisions often represent a touchstone in testing approaches proposed for the solution of more complicated problems Research on the theory of slow atomic collisions carried out at the Moscow Institute of Chemical Physics has been based on just these ideas A general viewpoint concerning the setting up and representation of the theory came out of these studies and appeared to be useful in studying complicated systems as well It underlies the representation of the theory of slow atomic collisions in this book Nuclear Science Abstracts, 1972 Exotic Atoms Dezsó Horváth, Richard M. Lambrecht, 1984 Atomic and Molecular Spectroscopy Sune Svanberg, 2023-01-06 A wide ranging review of modern spectroscopic techniques such as X ray photoelectron optical and laser spectroscopy and radiofrequency and microwave techniques On the fundamental side the book focuses on physical principles and the impact of spectroscopy on our understanding of the building blocks of matter while in the area of applications particular attention is given to those in chemical analysis photochemistry surface characterisation environmental and medical diagnostics remote sensing and astrophysics The Fourth Edition also provides the reader with an update on laser cooling and trapping Bose Einstein condensation ultra fast spectroscopy high power laser matter interaction satellite based astronomy and spectroscopic aspects of laser medicine *Atomic Physics 2.
