Augusta Ga A Postcard History:

Augusta in Vintage Postcards Joseph M. Lee III, 1997-11-01 In the early 1900s America was swept up in the postcard craze All over the country people seized on these charming snapshots of life as a means of keeping in touch with friends and family as well as seeing strange and exciting parts of the world Augusta Joseph M. Lee, 2000 Augusta Joseph M. Lee, 2000 Monuments to the Lost Cause Cynthia J. Mills, Pamela Hemenway Simpson, 2003 This richly illustrated collection of fourteen essays examines the ways in which Confederate memorials from Monument Avenue to Stone Mountain and the public rituals surrounding them testify to the tenets of the Lost Cause a romanticized narrative of the war Several essays highlight the creative leading role played by women's groups in memorialization while others explore the alternative ways in which people outside white southern culture wrote their very different histories on the southern landscape The authors who include Richard Guy Wilson Catherine W Bishir W Fitzhugh Brundage and William M S Ramussen trace the origins objectives and changing consequences of Confederate monuments over time and the dynamics of individuals and organizations that sponsored them Thus these essays extend the growing literature on the rhetoric of the Lost Cause by shifting the focus to the realm of the visual They are especially relevant in the present day when Confederate symbols and monuments continue to play a central role in a public and often emotionally charged debate about how the South's past should be remembered The editors Art Historian Cynthia Mills a specialist in nineteenth century public sculpture is executive editor of American Art the scholarly journal of the Smithsonian American Art Museum Pamela H Simpson is the Ernest Williams II Professor of Art History at Washington and Lee University She is the coauthor of The Architecture of Historic Lexington East Central Georgia in Vintage Postcards Gary L. Doster, 1998-11-10 From the 1890s through the 1920s the postcard was an extraordinarily popular means of communication and many of the postcards produced during this golden age can today be considered works of art Postcard photographers traveled the length and breadth of the nation snapping photographs of busy street scenes documenting local landmarks and assembling crowds of local children only too happy to pose for a picture These images printed as postcards and sold in general stores across the country survive as telling reminders of an important era in America's history This fascinating new history of East Central Georgia showcases more than two hundred of the best vintage postcards available Entertainment in Augusta and the CSRA Don Rhodes, 2004 Augusta Georgia and the surrounding towns in the Central Savannah River Area boast more than 200 years of entertainment history including performances by late 18th century musicians and many of the nation's first superstars Some of the most memorable moments in the history of the Garden City are captured in the pages of this unique volume Entertainment in Augusta and the CSRA reveals many famous faces that have made appearances either for a short time or for life in the CSRA Captured in striking vintage images most of which were culled from the archives of The Augusta Chronicle are unforgettable visitors ranging from Charlie Chaplin to Elvis Presley In addition to nationally recognized celebrities such as Amy Grant

Jayne Mansfield Hulk Hogan Jessye Norman Butterfly McQueen and The Godfather of Soul James Brown this collection pays tribute to local and regional talents from singers and dancers to athletes and politicians Emma's Postcard Album Faith Mitchell,2022-12-21 BCALA 2023 Outstanding Contribution to Publishing Citation Award winner The turn of the twentieth century was an extraordinarily difficult period for African Americans a time of unchecked lynchings mob attacks and rampant Jim Crow segregation During these bleak years Emma Crawford a young African American woman living in Pennsylvania corresponded by postcard with friends and family members and collected the cards she received from all over the country Her album spanning from 1906 to 1910 and analyzed in Emma's Postcard Album becomes an entry point into a deeply textured understanding of the nuances and complexities of African American lives and the survival strategies that enabled people to make a way from no way As snippets of lived experience eye catching visual images and reflections of historical moments the cards in the collection become sources for understanding not only African American life but also broader American history and culture In Emma's Postcard Album Faith Mitchell innovatively places the contents of this postcard collection into specific historic and biographical contexts and provides a new interpretation of postcards as life writings a much neglected aspect of scholarship Through these techniques a riveting world that is far too little known is revealed and new insights are gained into the perspectives and experience of African Americans Capping off these contributions the text is a visual feast illustrated with arresting images from the Golden Age of postcards as well as newspaper clippings and other archival material

Smaller towns in the county including Belton Honea Path Piedmont Pelzer Pendleton and Williamston developed around depots serving the Greenville and Columbia Railroad Ty Cobb Don Rhodes,2008-02-26 Distantly related to a Confederate general Ty Cobb was a strapping Augusta youth who became a star for the Detroit Tigers Long revered as a great hitter and an incredibly fast baserunner Cobb often has been remembered as a hated athlete a bitter man who died nearly 50 years ago No biographer has explored the complex personality as deeply and meticulously as Don Rhodes in his new comprehensive biography Rhodes reveals the man as Cobb was in Augusta in the off season and as a retiree For the first time a biographer includes interviews with Cobb s two daughters whom Rhodes met before they died his granddaughter and close friends who offer insight and photos of Cobb s private life never seen before Many of Cobb s emotional troubles started early in life and no doubt were compounded during his early seasons with the Tigers when his mother went on trial for murdering his father The ugly side of this phenomenal athlete is not defended or explained away but readers learn to better understand a man who seemed so miserable when he had so much Don Rhodes is an editor at Morris Communications in Augusta He has written Ramblin Rhodes a music column for more than 37 years and his byline appears in many magazines and newspapers He lives in North Augusta South Carolina Domestic United States Military Facilities of the First World War
