Character and Environment in the Novels of Thomas Hardy Herbert B. Grimsditch,1966 Character and Environment in the Novels of Thomas Hardy , Novel Environments Jayne Hildebrand,2023-05-31 The environment concept has shaped humanity's relationship to the natural world and has drawn attention to the effects of human actions on our natural surroundings But when did we learn that we live in an environment While scholars have often located the emergence of the environment concept in twentieth century ecological and political thought Novel Environments Science Description and Victorian Fiction reconstructs a longer and a specifically literary history It was in the descriptive worldmaking of the Victorian novel that the environment was first transformed from an abstraction into a vivid object of imagination and feeling Engaging the scientific theories of their contemporaries Mary Russell Mitford George Eliot Thomas Hardy and Robert Louis Stevenson turned to detailed description from gardens and landscapes to weather and atmospheres to model interactions between life and its surroundings Far from merely furnishing static background the descriptive apparatus of the Victorian novel imagined the nonhuman environment as dynamically involved with human action feeling and development In making this argument Novel Environments recovers the scientific vocabulary the Victorians used to name the surroundings of living organisms The word environment dominates our own way of speaking about the nonhuman world but nineteenth century scientific writers and novelists availed themselves of a richer conceptual lexicon which included environment along with less familiar concepts such as milieu medium and circumstance Jayne Hildebrand traces the development of Victorian environmental thought from the earliest theorization of physical surroundings as a dynamic influence in the life sciences through the idea of a singular medium in mid century organicism to the conception of the planet as an environmental system at the fin de siècle By showing how novelistic description helped to produce the modern environment concept Hildebrand sheds new light on the relationship between Victorian literature and the life sciences and reveals how literary form has shaped the ecological ideas through which we apprehend the nonhuman world Environmental Thought in Contemporary Pakistani Fiction Sonia Irum,2025-03-11 This book looks at Pakistani fiction from an environmental perspective focusing on the novels of the internationally renowned author Uzma Aslam Khan It explores the rich environmental landscapes of Khan's works and their distinctive contribution to developing Pakistani ecocriticism The book examines the discourse on the environment in contemporary Pakistani fiction in English and the contribution of Khan's fiction such as The Story of Noble Rot Trespassing Thinner than Skin and others towards developing ecological thinking in Pakistani literature and literary criticism In her novels Khan gives voice to the nonhuman or the Other highlights the harmonious connections between humans and nature and reflects on the far reaching ecological social and health effects of climate change The author showcases literary activism and analyses how the state engages with the ecopolitical discourses in Pakistani society by studying the intersections of Western imperialism militarism state policies capitalism consumerism and global climate change The book will be of interest to students and researchers of English literature environmental studies ecocriticism literary and critical studies postcolonial studies and indigenous studies The Environmental Unconscious in the Fiction of Don DeLillo Elise A. Martucci,2007 This book presents an ecocritical reading of DeLillo s novels in an attempt to mediate between the seemingly incompatible influences of postmodernism and environmentalism Martucci argues that although DeLillo is responding to and engaging with a postmodern culture of simulacra and simulation his novels do not reflect a postmodernist theory of the end of nature Rather his fiction emphasizes the lasting significance of the natural world and alerts us to the dangers of destroying it In order to support this argument Martucci examines DeLillo s novels in the context of traditional American literary representations of the environment especially through the lens of Leo Marx s discussion of the conflict between technology and nature found in traditional American literature She demonstrate that DeLillo s fiction explores the way in which new technologies alter perceptions and mediate reality to a further extent than earlier technologies however she argues that he keeps the material world at the forefront of his novels thereby illuminating the environmental implications of these technologies Through close readings of Americana The Names White Noise and Underworld and discussions of postmodernist and ecocritical theories this project engages with current criticism of DeLillo postmodernist fiction and environmental criticism Women Characters in the Novels of Kamala Markandaya Urmila Sharma,2005 Kamala Markandaya b 1924 Indo English women novelist Tragedy in the Victorian Novel Jeannette King,1978-01-26 How does one dominant literary genre fall into decline to be superseded by another The classic instance is the rise of the novel in the nineteenth century and how it came to embody the tragic vision of life which had previously been the domain of drama Dr King focuses on three novelists George Eliot Thomas Hardy and Henry James All three while trying to offer a realistic picture of life in prose narrative wrote with the concept of tragedy clearly in mind The concern was widespread and Victorian literary critics found themselves discussing the problem of how one might reconcile concepts as dissimilar as tragedy and realism Their criticism provides Dr King with her starting point Dr King examines the work of her three authors in relation to the large concepts of traditional tragic thought and also examines how the form of specific novels was affected by their differing ideas of tragedy The image-symbolic system of the novel "Oblomov" by Ivan Goncharov Vladimir Brajuc,2024-04-21 This monograph deals with the figurative and symbolic system in the novel Oblomov by I A Goncharov it presents different interpretations of the image of Oblomov demonstrates its complexity organic combination of the typical and the individual The author reveals the most significant artistic techniques of creating characters typical for the novel and for the writer's individual style in general. The study gives aesthetic characteristics of the novel characters, defines their artistic role and reveals polysemanticism in the novel structure. The Supplement presents a reflective hero in Russian literature and Soviet cinema from Onegin and Oblomov to Zilov. The characteristic features of the literary type of superfluous person are highlighted in N. Mikhalkov's film A Few Days from the Life of I. I. Oblomov as well as in A. Vampilov's play Duck Hunting and in its film adaptation Vacation in September directed by V. Melnikov. The monograph is addressed to teachers and pupils, professors and students of philological faculties as well as to everyone who reads and loves literature.

Transgression in Swahili Narrative Fiction and its Reception Rémi Armand Tchokothe, 2014. This book remarkably analyses the development of recent Swahili prose narrative. The main thesis is that since the 90s Swahili literature has developed to go beyond aspects that had hitherto conditioned literature in African languages: local, popular and didactic, and has opened itself to global, sophisticated and subversive perspectives. Rémi Tchokothe uses the leitmotif of transgression as the unifying thread to render an account of this evolution of the Swahili narrative fiction towards the disruption of narrative linearity, an increase in intertextual references, an awareness of globalisation in political analysis and a shift to magical realism. The finishing touch to the analysis is a meticulously conducted reception survey which highlights editorial ambiguities that go with the transgressive turn.
