Charitable Crescent Politics Of Aid In The Muslim World:

The Charitable Crescent Jonathan Benthall, Jérôme Bellion-Jourdan, 2003 Islamic Charity Under Suspicion such headlines have become familiar since the attacks on the United States on 9 11 The Charitable Crescent is a unique and original account of a hitherto little known field of pivotal significance to our understanding of the Muslim world today the relationship between politics and philanthropy in the workings of Islamic charities Based on years of research Jonathan Benthall and Jerome Bellion Jourdan explain the long tradition of philanthropy in Muslim history and how it is constantly adapted to differing political contexts The pervasive connections between Gulf Charities and Islamic Philanthropy in the 'Age of Terror' and Beyond Robert Lacey, Jonathan Benthall, 2014-12-31 Gulf Charities and Islamic Philanthropy in the Age of Terror and Beyond is the first book to be published on the charities of Saudi Arabia and the Arabian Gulf covering their work both domestic and international From a diversity of viewpoints the book addresses the historical roots of Islamic philanthropy in religious traditions and geopolitical movements the interactions of the Gulf charities with Western relief and development institutions now under pressure owing to budgetary constraints numerous case studies from the Middle East Africa and South Asia the impact of violent extremism on the sector with the legal repercussions that have followed especially in the USA the recent history of attempts to alleviate the obstacles faced by bona fide Islamic charities whose absence from major conflict zones now leaves a vacuum for extremist groups to penetrate the prospects for a less politicized Islamic charity sector when the so called war on terror eventually loses its salience Religion and the Politics of Development P. Fountain, R. Bush, M. Feener, 2015-04-07 This volume brings emerging research on religion and development into conversation with politics Deploying innovative conceptual frameworks and drawing on empirical research from across contemporary Asia this collection makes an incisive contribution to the analysis of aid and development processes The House of Service David Tittensor, 2014-02-28 David Tittensor offers a groundbreaking new perspective on the G len movement a Turkish Muslim educational activist network that emerged in the 1960s and has grown into a global empire with an estimated worth of 25 billion Named after its leader Fethullah G len the movement has established more than 1 000 secular educational institutions in over 140 countries aiming to provide holistic education that incorporates both spirituality and the secular sciences Despite the movement s success little is known about how its schools are run or how Islam is operationalized Drawing on thirteen months of ethnographic fieldwork in Turkey Tittensor explores the movement s ideology and how it is practiced in the schools His interviews with both teachers and graduates from Africa Indonesia Central Asia and Turkey show that the movement is a missionary organization but of a singular kind its goal is not simply widespread religious conversion but a quest to recoup those Muslims who have apparently lost their way and to show non Muslims that Muslims can embrace modernity and integrate into the wider community Tittensor also examines the movement s operational side and shows how the schools represent an example of Mohammad Yunus s social business model a business with a social cause at its heart The House of Service is an insightful exploration of one of the world s largest transnational Muslim associations and will be invaluable for those seeking to understand how Islam will be perceived and practiced in the future
