Sing Me To Sleep Terence Lavelle, 2014-03-07 Between the two world wars my father took an interest in poems and rhymes from the Great War and wrote some 30 of them down in a notebook along with other poetry This book is based on those poems and the Great War In 1914 Britain was reluctantly drawn into war with Germany in support of France an inevitability that had been forecast since the signing of the Entente Cordiale Germany had the biggest army in the world and was the belligerent by declaring war against Russia and through that act France then England by treaty or agreement was also committed In 1914 Britain's had a pathetically small army but by 1918 it was equal in size to the armies of Germany and France and was taking the brunt of the fighting alongside a French army weakened by mutiny and low morale Throughout the war the BEF fought heroically and courageously at times forced to retreat but they were never beaten The enemy never managed to break through to the important centres or the Channel ports nor did they ever break the British spirit Yet the BEF were scorned by the powers that be at home and treated with ignominy Lloyd George failed disgracefully to stand by the General Staff in France who without doubt in some instances made mistakes they were however guided by their conscience and better judgement in their attempts to bring the war to an early conclusion I hope that this book goes some way to restoring their credibility and shows the efforts of those who were there in a fairer perspective      Survivors of War Sang-mi Lee ,2022-11-15 BOOK SUMMARY There are many ways we can look at the history of war history books poetry fiction novels paintings photographs and movies to name a few The possible approaches to the history of war are endless but did you know that architecture is also a lens through which we can glimpse into the wars of years past War destroys buildings but also builds new ones Those who began the wars disappear but the architecture that lived through it remains to tell stories we must not forget Famous buildings and sites that we may not initially associate with war such as The Louvre in France the Neue Wache in Germany Windsor Castle in England the Colosseum in Italy the Grand Kremlin Palace in Russia are memory trunks that hold captivating and profound stories on war waiting to be told Architecture a witness product victim and survivor of war provides a window into the history of war

PREFACE The idea for this book the war histories of famous architectural buildings and sites came to me during an ordinary visit to the Louvre Museum As an art history graduate student and then after an aspiring curator working in Paris I was a frequent visitor of the Louvre Regrettably it was only after a dozen or so visits that I finally found my way to the less crowded basement floor where I came upon the preserved ruins of the museum s original architecture a medieval fortress This discovery of the Louvre s genesis struck me Aside from the well known fact that it had once been the palace that the Sun King abandoned in favor of his new Versailles residence I had never given much thought to the Louvre s history due to my preoccupation with the many histories it exhibits It was fascinating to think that this representative museum of Art with a capital A was once a twelfth century fortress that provided military defense for the city of Paris in times of war A quick online search further uncovered the Louvre s history of war As it turns out war was responsible for both the Louvre s beginnings as a fortress as well as its modern day identity as the home for art objects from all over the world War was not a chapter in the Louvre s story but a main thread woven into its identity Interestingly this not only holds true for the Louvre but many landmarks and cultural sites throughout Europe Years later I had the opportunity to write about this connection between famous architecture and war The Kookbang ilbo or the National Defense Daily approached me in early 2019 to propose I write for their Arts and Culture section I suggested this topic and the first installment of the column War as told by Architecture The Louvre Museum was published on July 15 later that year 17 months 76 installments and 75 architectures later these columns became the seed for this book This passion project revisits the histories of war tucked away in the attics or in the case of the Louvre the basement of these buildings Countless places usually seen through rose colored glasses bear painful memories and permanent scars behind their fa ades Their stories prompt a reconsideration of these sites beyond their attraction as tourist spots and reflection on the impact of war on people as well as the walls that surround defend shelter represent fail and at times imprison Survivors of War Architecture before the 21st century is not an exhaustive history of Europe s wars or architecture The chosen sites are organized by countries which have been narrowed down to some of the most famous locations in France Italy England Germany Russia Spain Poland Austria Czech Republic Finland the Netherlands Turkey Syria Bosnia Herzegovina and Greece in no particular order The first five chapters are each assigned to a country while the last chapter groups architectural sites in multiple countries The latter was organized in this way because these countries had less than three sites that I decided to include in this book There are many palaces bridges fortresses towers and plazas with fascinating war stories that did not make it into this book but that I hope to write about one day To begin here are the stories of those that are sure to capture any reader's interest

Major Contents The Louvre Museum's war history centers around the famous Napoleon Bonaparte 1769-1821 Napoleon entered the Paris Military Academy cole Militaire in 1784 and within a year he was commissioned as an artillery lieutenant He took office as deputy commander of the Corsica National Army during the French Revolution in 1789 With the success of the November 1799 coup d'état Napoleon became a powerful figure of authority and eventually went on to become the emperor of France's first empire from 1804 to 1815 Although he suffered a crushing defeat at the hands of the British Royal Navy at the Battle of Trafalgar Napoleon nevertheless conquered the Continent by bringing down the Prussian and Russian empires and defeating Austria which effectively dissolved the Holy Roman Empire

THE LOUVRE MUSEUM 18p Edward IV of the victorious House of York was crowned king and Henry VI was executed in the Tower of London Later when Edward IV died after more than a decade of rule his 12-year-old son Edward V was crowned king in 1483 but just two months after he ascended the throne the young king went missing along with his brother Richard of Shrewsbury the Duke of York In 1674 workmen repairing the stairs of the White Tower of the Tower of London found a box containing the remains of two children presumed to be the remains of the two brothers Eventually the Wars of the Roses concluded with the death of Richard III in the Battle of Bosworth Field thus opening up the era of the House of Tudors who ruled the Kingdoms of England and Ireland under five monarchs and the accession of Henry VII THE TOWER OF LONDON 65p Home to 127 factories and industries Dresden was the seventh largest German city and the center of telecommunications and manufacturing by the 20th century For this reason this important industrial city became an obvious target for Allies during World War II From February 13 to February 15 in 1945 722 British Air Force bombers and 527 U S Army Air Force bombers flew over Dresden and dropped more than 3 900 tons of bombs upon the beautiful city The heat generated by bombings and bombs created a firestorm throughout Dresden This tragic bombing destroyed 90% of Dresden and killed about 25 000 innocent civilians The Church of Our Lady endured two days of Allied bombing but eventually succumbed at 10 a m on February 15 to the heat generated 650 000 incendiary bombs that fell on the city This was mainly because the material of the church sandstone was particularly vulnerable to heat DRESDNER FRAUENKIRCHE 121p With the outbreak of World War I in 1914 the last Tsar of the Romanov dynasty of Russia Nicholas II 1868 1918 had 15 million soldiers jump into the battlefield in order to mollify the people s discontent Sadly due to the incapacity of the commanders 800 000 Russians were defeated by the far fewer 160 000 Germans in the Battle of Tannenberg Due to the void left by the mass of young men taken into war the labor force in Russia rapidly deteriorated which in turn resulted in greater suffering for the people The prolonged period of such dire circumstances and hardships during World War I the last dynasty of Russia collapsed after the February and October Revolutions of 1917 upon which the Soviet regime was established HERMITAGE MUSEUM 180p The name Colosseum comes from the Latin word Colossale which means colossal It is believed that the Colosseum s name came from its location near to a 30 meter tall colossal statue of Emperor Nero that no longer exists The enormous amphitheater is 188 meters in diameter 156 meters in length 527 meters in circumference and 48 meters in height Made of four arcaded stories this single structure exhibits all three architectural styles of Greece and Rome The ground level is made of columns in the simple and heavy Doric order the second story is made in the soft and delicate Ionic order and the third and fourth stories are made in the slender and decorative Corinthian order Marble decorates the outer walls while wood and reddish sand covers the stadium s floor in order to disguise the blood that was spilt from the violent games that took place there THE COLOSSEUM 192p The official symbol of UNESCO is modeled on the Parthenon The reason for this is because the Parthenon is representative of UNESCO s efforts to protect cultural treasures In order to prevent further damage due natural disasters time and wars UNESCO designated the Parthenon as World Heritage Site No I There have been renovations amde throughout the temple but different marble colors were used to differentiate between the original and repaired columns To reach this temple which sits atop the Acropolis visitors need to pass by many other sites Among them Herodes Atticus Theater is an outdoor theater located on the southwest part of the Acropolis Parts of the Parthenon are displayed in the British Museum in London England When will they return to their original home THE PARTHENON 258p Chasing Napoleon E. Vovsi,2005-11-01 James Napoleon is involved in an offshore money laundering scam that he sees as the final curve in the road to the respect and admiration that he's been seeking his entire life. In order for everything to fall into place, James has to lure his boss Bradley Harper away from the lush American Religious Alliance offices in Williamsburg for a few days so his co-conspirator and Harper's most trusted deputy, Cole Webster, can finish the electronic transfers undetected. Already on a business trip to the West Coast, James decides to slip over to Las Vegas and pay a clandestine visit to Harper's estranged wife, who is supposed to meet with an accident severe enough to bring Harper running. But the accident kills the victim, and the victim is not Evelyn. Thus begins a chain of events which brings to the surface a rage that James has suppressed since adolescence and sends him on a course to kill Evelyn, no matter the consequences. As he sets his plan in motion, he eliminates anyone standing in his way efficiently and in cold blood.

Intelligence in War John Keegan, 2004-10-12. In fiction, the spy is a glamorous figure whose secrets make or break peace, but historically, intelligence has really been a vital step to military victories. In this breakthrough study, the preeminent war historian John Keegan goes to the heart of a series of important conflicts to develop a powerful argument about military intelligence. In his characteristically wry and perceptive prose, Keegan offers us nothing short of a new history of war through the prism of intelligence. He brings to life the split-second decisions that went into waging war before the benefit of aerial surveillance and electronic communications. The English admiral Horatio Nelson was hot on the heels of Napoleon's fleet in the Mediterranean and never knew it, while Stonewall Jackson was able to compensate for the Confederacy's disadvantage in firearms and manpower with detailed maps of the Appalachians. In the past century, espionage and decryption have changed the face of battle: the Japanese surprise attack at the Battle of the Midway was thwarted by an early warning. Timely information, however, is only the beginning of the surprising and disturbing aspects of decisions that are made in war, where brute force is often more critical. Intelligence in War is a thought-provoking work that ranks among John Keegan's finest achievements.

Journal of the Waterloo Campaign: A Military History Various Authors, 2020-09-28. The return of Napoleon from Elba, though a surprise to many, was far from being so to those who were well aware of his restless disposition, his insatiable ambition, and the enthusiastic attachment of the French soldiery to his person and fortunes. Had scarcely expected that he would have remained so long as he actually did, without some new attempt at disturbing the general peace. The steps taken on this occasion by the different European Powers, their preparations for a renewal of the bloody scenes so lately ended, are out of my province. They belong to the historian, and not to the simple journalist, whose affair it is to confine himself strictly to those transactions in which he was himself a participator, or at most to glance at those more general subjects merely to give connection to his narrative and make it better understood. At the time the news of this extraordinary event arrived, the troop of horse artillery which I commanded was stationed at Colchester, and the reductions necessary to put us on a peace establishment had already commenced when the order arrived for our being immediately equipped again for foreign service To do this effectually another troop then in the same barracks was broken up and we got the picked horses of both thus making it the finest troop in the service and such diligence was used that although our equipment fell little short of a complete reorganisation Major Sir A Fraser commanding the horse artillery in Colchester was enabled to report on the third day that the troop was ready to march at a moment s warning Meantime the town of Colchester situated as it is on the great road from Harwich to London presented a scene of bustle and anxiety seldom equalled couriers passing to and fro incessantly and numerous travellers foreign and English arriving day and night from the Continent many travelling in breathless haste as if fearful even here of Napoleon s emissaries The reports spread by these fugitives were various and contradictory as might be expected According to some Louis XVIII had been arrested in Paris according to others he had sought refuge in the Pays Bas and again it was asserted that his Majesty was at Ostend awaiting permission to pass the sea and return to his old and secure quarters in England In the midst of all this on the 8th April the post brought our order to march forthwith to Harwich there to embark for Ostend an order received with unfeigned joy by officers and men all eager to plunge into danger and bloodshed all hoping to obtain glory and distinction On the morning of the 9th the troop paraded at half past seven o clock with as much regularity and as quietly as if only going to a field day not a man either absent or intoxicated and every part of the guns and appointments in the most perfect order At eight the hour named in orders we marched off the parade The weather was fine the scenery as we skirted the beautiful banks of the Stour charming and the occasion exhilarating Near Manningtree we halted a short time to feed our horses and then pursuing our route arrived at Harwich about three o clock in the afternoon Here we found the transports the Adventure Philarea and Salus in which last I embarked awaiting us but the tide being unfavourable although we immediately commenced operations we only succeeded in embarking the horses of one division and those of the officers the remainder were therefore put up in the barracks for the night As might be expected the little town of Harwich presented a most animated spectacle Its narrow streets of modest houses with brick trottoirs were crowded with soldiers some all over dust just arrived some who had already been a day or two in the place comparatively at home lounging about in undress others about to embark hurrying along to the beach with baggage and stores sailors marketing or rolling about half seas over country people bringing in vegetables and the like and towns people idling at their windows or in groups at corners of the streets in short the usual picture incident on such occasions
