art theatre and literature as well as those of Althusser's collaborator Pierre Macherey Warren Montag traces the contradictory development of Althusser's thought from the early sixties to his autobiography Additional material includes an annotated bibliography of texts by and on Althusser and the book also features a previously untranslated essay by the theorist on Brecht and Marx

Jacques Lacan Jean-Michel Rabaté, 2001-02-20 The French theorist Lacan has always been called a literary theoretician Here is for the first time a complete study of his literary analyses and examples with an account of the importance of literature in the building of his highly original system of thought Rabaté offers a systematic genealogy of Lacan's theory of literature reconstructing a doctrine based upon Freudian insights and revitalised through close readings of authors as diverse as Poe Gide Shakespeare Plato Claudel Genet Duras and Joyce Not simply an essay about Lacan's influences or style this book shows how the emergence of key terms like the letter and the symptom would not have been possible without innovative readings of literary texts

Speaking Pictures Virginia Mason Vaughan, Fernando Cioni, Jacquelyn Bessell, 2010 Speaking Pictures explores the complex negotiations between seeing and hearing essential to the audience's experience in any dramatic performance Ranging chronologically from the Middle Ages to the present the essays consider a variety of methods that help us recuperate the visual impact of theatrical spectacle before the age of video archives The anthology takes its discussion of performance beyond the physical space of the theater to examine texts that were meant to be spoken but not literally performed such as medieval pageantry and closet dramas of the nineteenth century Many essays focus on the Early Modern English stage particularly the challenges of recapturing the totality of the original audience's experience in London's open air theaters by the examination of stage directions text and archival evidence The collection concludes with a discussion of the contemporary actor's challenge in physicalizing the language of Early Modern plays especially Shakespeare's

Race Brian Niro, 2017-03-14 This dynamic study of the history of the idea of race traces the concept from its prehistory across 400 years to its current status Brian Niro introduces key theorists and philosophers and a wide variety of literary and theoretical
