The Roots of Miró Gimferrer, Pere, Joan Miró, 1993 By comparing Spanish artist Joan Miro's finished paintings and sculptures with more than 1200 of his sketches and preparatory studies Gimferrer places Miro's art in a surprising new perspective. Marvelously illustrated with 285 radiant color plates and 1276 in black and white this intensive analysis of Miro's creative process explains how he would first isolate some element from the teeming outside world then incorporate a graphic sign into it thus setting in motion a transfigurative process in which objects signs and symbols underwent a constant metamorphosis. In placing Miro's preliminary drawings alongside the pictures to which they gave rise Spanish poet and art critic Gimferrer illuminates the inner alchemy by which Miro discovered his major motifs and set them loose in a free floating pictorial universe.

Joan Miró Jacques Dupin, Joan Miró, 2009 Considered one of the great artists of the 20th century Joan Miro has bequeathed us a definitive body of work whose influence has continued to grow over the years. Miro did not paint dreams but instead through his works provided the spectator with certain elements so that he would be the one that dreamed. He never worked under the influence of hypnosis drugs or alcohol. Nevertheless his artistic personality and the way he represented on canvas what inspiration dictated to him led André Breton to exclaim Miro is the most surrealist of us all. A creative force in the plastic field who felt an equal passion for the word for the most daring poetic plays a lover of objects and the bare truth of materials Miro always revealed himself as an oneiric artist a seeker after the constellations that inspired some of his finest works. Jacques Dupin the main authority in Miro work details all those items in his amazing essay The Birth of Signs 72 illustrations.
