August Rodin Postcard:

August Rodin Postcard Book Auguste Rodin, Prestel Publishing, 2005 Catalogue of an Exhibition of Sculpture and Drawing by Auguste Rodin - Contains Facsimile of Postcard Declining to Provide Preface for Catalogue, Written by G.B. Shaw, 1931 Dan H. Laurence Collection, Auguste Rodin, Bernard Shaw, 1931 The Juggler of Notre Dame and the Medievalizing of Modernity. Jan M. Ziolkowski, 2018-08-29 This ambitious and vivid study in six volumes explores the journey of a single electrifying story from its first incarnation in a medieval French poem through its prolific rebirth in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The Juggler of Notre Dame tells how an entertainer abandons the world to join a monastery but is suspected of blasphemy after dancing his devotion before a statue of the Madonna in the crypt he is saved when the statue delighted by his skill miraculously comes to life Jan Ziolkowski tracks the poem from its medieval roots to its rediscovery in late nineteenth century Paris before its translation into English in Britain and the United States The visual influence of the tale on Gothic revivalism and vice versa in America is carefully documented with lavish and inventive illustrations and Ziolkowski concludes with an examination of the explosion of interest in The Juggler of Notre Dame in the twentieth century and its place in mass culture today Volume 3 The American Middle Ages hinges upon two figures influenced by the juggler Henry Adams scion of Presidents and distinguished cultural historian whose works contributed to the rise of medievalism in America during the Gilded Age and Ralph Adams Cram the architect whose vision of Gothic accounts directly or indirectly for the campuses of West Point Princeton Yale Chicago Notre Dame and many other universities across America The Juggler of Notre Dame and the Medievalizing of Modernity is a rich case study for the reception of the Middle Ages in modernity Spanning centuries and continents the medieval period is understood through the lens of its post modern reception in Europe and America Profound connections between the verbal and the visual are illustrated by a rich trove of images including book illustrations stained glass postage stamps architecture and Christmas cards Presented with great clarity and simplicity Ziolkowski s work is accessible to the general reader while its many new discoveries will be valuable to academics in such fields and disciplines as medieval studies medievalism philology literary history art history folklore performance studies and reception studies Important Artifacts and Personal Property from the Collection of Lenore Doolan and Harold Morris, Including Books, Street Fashion, and Jewelry Leanne Shapton, 2009-02-03 A love story told in the form of an auction catalog Auction catalogs can tell you a lot about a person their passions and vanities peccadilloes and aesthetics their flush years and lean Think of the collections of Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis Truman Capote the Duke and Duchess of Windsor In Leanne Shapton s marvelously inventive and invented auction catalog the 325 lots up for auction are what remain from the relationship between Lenore Doolan and Harold Morris who aren t real people but might as well be Through photographs of the couple s personal effects the usual auction items jewelry fine art and rare furniture and the seemingly worthless pajamas Post it notes worn paperbacks the story of a failed love affair vividly and cleverly emerges From first meeting to final separation the progress and rituals of intimacy are revealed through the couple's accumulated relics and memorabilia. And a love story in all its tenderness and struggle emerges from the evidence that has been left behind laid out for us to appraise and appreciate. In an earlier work Was She Pretty Shapton, a talented artist and illustrator, subtly explored the seemingly simple yet powerfully complicated nature of sexual jealousy. In Important Artifacts and Personal Property from the Collection of Lenore Doolan and Harold Morris, a very different yet equally original book, she invites us to contemplate what is truly valuable and to consider the art we make of our private lives.

A Remarkable Friendship Ann Galbally, 2008. A huddle of wooden sheds in a courtyard off the Boulevard Montmartre, known as Cormon's atelier, was where the handsome art student from Sydney, John Peter Russell, first met the haunted, intense newcomer from Holland, Vincent van Gogh. Both were foreigners in the competitive art world of Paris in the 1880s, and over the next two years, both would discover a passion for colour painting. Now, for the first time, Ann Galbally traces the passage of this extraordinary and unlikely friendship. The two spent hours together in a Paris studio, experimenting with the fast-moving changes in art practice. Both artists ultimately rejected the Impressionist's world of urban sophistication and left Paris to develop colour painting in isolation: Van Gogh at Arles in Provence and Russell on Belle Ile off the coast of Brittany. With a supporting cast including Gauguin, Rodin, Monet, and Matisse, this is a journey through the struggles and failures, plots and intrigues of artistic life. A tale of love found and lost and ultimate tragedy, it makes for an enthralling reading.

Butterfly's Sisters Yoko Kawaguchi, 2010-11-30. In this fascinating and wide-ranging book, Yoko Kawaguchi explores the Western portrayal of Japanese women and geishas, in particular from the mid-nineteenth century to the present day. She argues that in the West, Japanese women have come to embody certain ideas about feminine sexuality, and she analyzes how these ideas have been expressed in diverse art forms, ranging from fiction and opera to the visual arts and music videos. Among the many works Kawaguchi discusses are the art criticism of Baudelaire and Huysmans, the opera Madama Butterfly, the sculptures of Rodin, the Broadway play Teahouse of the August Moon, and the international best-seller Memoirs of a Geisha. Butterfly's Sisters also examines the impact on early twentieth-century theatre, drama, and dance theory of the performance styles of the actresses Madame Hanako and Sadayakko, both formerly geishas.

Auguste Rodin Auguste Rodin, 1993. In Rodin's Studio Albert E. Elsen, Auguste Rodin, 1980. The Central Liberal Truth Lawrence E. Harrison, 2008-07-08. Which cultural values, beliefs, and attitudes best promote democracy, social justice, and prosperity? How can we use the forces that shape cultural change, such as religion, education, and political leadership, to promote these values in the Third World and for underachieving minorities in the First World? In this book, Lawrence E. Harrison offers intriguing answers to these questions in a valuable follow-up to his acclaimed Culture Matters. Drawing on a three-year research project that explored the cultural values of dozens of nations, from Botswana, Sweden, and India to China, Egypt, and Chile, Harrison offers a provocative look at values around the globe, revealing how each nation's culture has propelled or retarded their political and economic progress The book presents 25 factors that operate very differently in cultures prone to progress and those that resist it including one's influence over destiny the importance attached to education the extent to which people identify with and trust others and the role of women in society Harrison pulls no punches and many of his findings are controversial Contradicting the arguments of multiculturalists this book contends that when it comes to promoting human progress some cultures are clearly more effective than others It convincingly shows which values beliefs and attitudes work and how we can foster them Harrison takes up the question that is at the center of politics today Can we self consciously change cultures so they encourage development and modernization David Brooks New York Times I can think of no better entrance to the topic both for what it teaches and the way it invites and prepares the reader to continue A gateway study David S Landes author of The Wealth and Poverty of Nations Year Book, 1918
