Bad Mouthing The Language Of Special Needs:

Bad Mouthing Jenny Corbett, 2013-11-05 The power of language is overwhelming and this is shown in the way in which words are used to define portray and explain people and situations With this in mind then it is interesting to note how the language of special needs has always been composed of words and images which foster fear mistrust loathing and hostility idiot imbecile and moron are frequently used as terms of abuse Whilst there has been considerable theorizing on the psychological and sociological aspects of special education as well as a recognition of the influence of policies and politics there has not yet been a concerted attempt to analyze the way in which language is used to create codes and images This general lack of interest may be because semantics seem peripheral to special education the focus has rather been on individual case studies teaching programmes legislation and practice Jenny Corbett however has a particular interest in the language of special needs Over the past few years she has explored the ways in which new discourses have emerged to challenge those of enlightened modernity the political correctness of special needs language in the mid 1990s and the ways in which imagery is changing as proud labels displace the legacy of negativity In this book the author brings together the findings of these explorations as she looks at where the language of special needs has emerged from where it seems to be going at present and what is likely to become of it in the near future In order to more fully understand why some learners are marginalised and given an inferior status says Jenny Corbett it is important to explore the way in which language has been used

The SAGE Handbook of Special Education Lani Florian, 2013-12-18 The second edition of The SAGE Handbook of Special Education provides a comprehensive overview of special education offering a wide range of views on key issues from all over the world The contributors bring together up to date theory research and innovations in practice with an emphasis on future directions for the role of special education in a global context of inclusion This brand new edition features New chapters on families interagency collaboration and issues of lifelong learning The UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Policy reform proposals Equity and social justice in education The impact of new thinking on assessment Issues and developments in classification The preparation and qualifications that teachers need The Handbook's breadth clarity and academic rigour will make it essential reading for researchers and postgraduate students and also for practitioners teachers school managers and administrators

Narrative and Metaphor in Education Michael Hanne, Anna A. Kaal, 2018-12-07 Human beings rely equally on narrative or storytelling and metaphor or analogy for making sense of the world Narrative and Metaphor in Education integrates the two perspectives of narrative and metaphor in educational theory and practice at every level from pre school to lifelong civic education Bringing together outstanding educational researchers the book interweaves for the first time the rich strand of current research about how narrative may be used productively in education with more fragmentary research on the role of metaphor in education and invites readers to look both ways The book consists of research by 40 academics from many countries and disciplines describing and analysing the intricate connections between narrative and metaphor as they manifest themselves in many fields of education including concepts of education teacher identity and reflective practice teaching across cultures teaching science and history using digital and visual media in teaching fostering reconciliation in a postcolonial context special needs education civic and social education and educational policy making It is unique in combining study of the narrative perspective and the metaphor perspective and in exploring such a comprehensive range of topics in education Narrative and Metaphor in Education will be of great interest to academics and researchers in the fields of education and educational policy as well as teacher educators practising and future teachers It will also appeal to psychologists sociologists applied linguists and communications specialists

Inclusive Education Felicity Armstrong, Derrick Armstrong, Len Barton, 2016-01-08 First published in 2000 This book looks at inclusive education in the context of policy and practice in a number of different countries particularly in relation to children and young people of school age At the heart of the idea of inclusive education lie serious issues concerning human rights equal opportunities and social justice The papers in this book will hopefully contribute to stimulating further debate and dialogue over both the conceptualisation and understanding of a cross cultural approach to inclusion and exclusion

New Directions in Special Needs Catherine Clark, 1997 This thought provoking text brings new ideas to the literature of special needs education an area shot through with questions of ethics and values This existing literature is heavily weighted towards the articulation of firmly held value positions and the advocacy of particular approaches New Directions in Special Needs acknowledges the importance of such advocacy but argues that it needs to be set alongside empirical evidence the touchstone of any attempt to understand the complexities of the field The book is supported by data from projects carried out by the Special Needs Research Centre at Newcastle University as well as evidence collected from the authors professional experience in schools The authors emphasize the historical perspective of special needs education missing from much of the literature on the subject and outline a model of the major forces and processes which shape special needs education at any given time Handbook of Research in the Social Foundations of Education Steven Tozer, Bernardo P.

Children with Disabilities in Head Start Patricia A. Jessup, 2004 Articulating with Difficulty Peter Clough, Len Barton, 1998 Articulating with Difficulty is an excellent collection and comes highly recommended It follows Peter Clough and Len Barton s earlier and controversial collection Making Difficulties 1995 and draws on a wide range of perspectives in disability inclusive education and Special Education Needs SEN research to tease out key issues on voice All contributors share a willingness to engage seriously with challenges thrown down by disabled academics and activists that they do from different standpoints in another strength of this collection Disability the voices of the researchers as well as those of th

Deaf and Disabled, Or Deafness Disabled? Mairian Corker, 1998 Deaf people are subject to different concepts of the deaf and disabled and their place within society There is a danger that some deaf people will become marginalized within the prevailing policy or service framework which in itself mitigates against full rights choice and participation There is therefore a great need to identify a common language for the experience of oppression and empowerment which all deaf people can share without sacrificing their rights to self definition International Journal of Contemporary Sociology, 2003

Disability, Human Rights and Education Felicity Armstrong, Len Barton, 1999 This volume recognizes the importance of an informed cross cultural understanding of the policies and practices of different societies within the field of disability human rights and education It represents an attempt to critically engage with issues arising from the historical and contemporary domination of portrayals of the western as advanced democratic and exemplary in contrast to the construction of the rest of the world as backward primitive and inferior in thses fundamental areas How human rights are understood in different contexts is a key theme in this book Some contributors raise questions about the value of a human rights model across all societies Others see the struggle for human rights as at the heart of the struggle for an inclusive society The implications for education arising from this debate are identified and a series of questions are raised by each author for further reflection and discussion as well as providing a stimulus for developing future research The Disabled Joan Nordquist, 1997 Inclusion and Diversity in Education Peter P Hick, Gary Thomas, 2009 This set brings together key articles on the theme of inclusion and diversity in education The collection takes disability and special education needs as a starting point from which to develop a broader view of a range of themes relating to learners who may be marginalized from educational communities Advances in Language and Education Anne McCabe, Mick O'Donnell, Rachel Whittaker, 2007-09-19 Examines new functional approaches to language and education and the impact of these on literacy in the classroom Special Education, Multicultural Education, and School Reform Cheryl Anita Rose Utley, Festus E. Obiakor, 2001 Also discussed are current issues affecting the education of multicultural students with mild disabilities the selection of appropriate service delivery options in inclusive settings the implementation of effective instructional programs and the utilization of services by families In this book Utley and Obiakor offer practical solutions to create partnerships between multicultural students their families local service providers general and special educators and community members Jacket Enabling Access Barry Carpenter, Rob Ashdown, Keith Bovair, 2001 The turmoil surrounding the implementation of the National Curriculum has subsided and the authors of this book offer ways of providing education to pupils with learning difficulties as well as encouraging parent involvement in the process Supporting Every Child Anita Walton, Gillian Goddard, 2009-04-29 A practical text that reflects upon teaching and learning in relation to the expanded role of the teaching assistant and the Every Child Matters agenda
