Baffin Notebook:

Southern Baffin Island Bernhard Hantzsch, Canada. Dept. of the Interior. Northwest Territories and Yukon Branch, 1930 The Arctic Whaling Journals of William Scoresby the Younger / Volume I / The Voyages of 1811, 1812 and 1813 William Scoresby, 2022-03-10 William Scoresby 1789 1857 made his first voyage in the whaler Resolution from Whitby to the Greenland Sea west of Spitsbergen in 1800 Three years later he was formally apprenticed to his father and another three years saw him promoted to chief officer On 5 October 1810 his twenty first birthday the earliest at which by reason of age I could legally hold a command his father moved to Greenock and another ship relinquishing the Resolution to his son Another ten years would see the publication of what has been described as one of the most remarkable books in the English language his two volume An Account of the Arctic Regions with a History and Description of the Northern Whale Fishery 1820 Even before he took command of the Resolution two developments had occurred that when combined with his seamanship and whaling skill were to make that book the foundation stone of Arctic science and cause the journals of his annual voyages to be remarkable accounts in their own right First Scoresby had studied during two brief winters at the University of Edinburgh Teachers such as John Playfair and Robert Jameson had made him aware of the scientific importance of his arctic experience Together with Sir Joseph Banks the president of the Royal Society they encouraged him to observe experiment and record and provided opportunities for his data to be published Secondly this encouragement and the study habits he developed at Edinburgh led Scoresby to expand the logs of his arctic voyages into lengthy journals that contained scientific records and social and religious comment as well as detailed descriptions of navigation and whaling Hunters on the Track W. Gillies Ross, 2019-07-18 Captains of whaling vessels were experienced navigators of northern waters and William Penny was in the vanguard of the whaling fraternity Leading the first maritime expedition in search of Sir John Franklin he stood out not just for his skill as a sailor but for his curiosity about northern geography and his willingness to seek out Inuit testimony to map uncharted territory Hunters on the Track describes and analyzes the efforts made by the Scottish whaling master to locate Franklin s missing expedition Bookended by an account of Penny s whaling career including the rediscovery of Cumberland Sound which would play a vital role in British whaling a decade later W Gillies Ross provides an in depth history of the first Franklin searches He reconstructs the brief but frenetic period when the English speaking world was preoccupied with locating Franklin but when the means of that search the ships chosen the route taken the evidence of Franklin s traces were contested and uncertain Ross details the particularities of each search at a time when no fewer than eight ships comprising four search expeditions were attempting to find Franklin s tracks Reconstructing events relationships and decisions he focuses on the work of Penny as commander of HMS Lady Franklin and Sophia while also outlining the events of other expeditions and interactions among the officers and crews William Penny is respected as one of the most influential and innovative figures in British Arctic whaling history but his brief role in the Franklin expedition is less known Using primary sources notably private journals from each of the expeditions Hunters on the Track places him at the forefront of a critical chapter of maritime history and the geographical exploration that began after Franklin disappeared
