Ballad Of The Stalking Man:

Ballad of the Stalking Man Lee F. Gregson, 1991-09-01      Ballads of the brave, selected by F. Langbridge, with notes
Ballads, 1890      Ballads of American Bravery Clinton Scollard, 1900      The Bagford Ballads Joseph Woodfall
Ebsworth, 1878      American War Ballads and Lyrics of Bravery: A Collection of the Songs and Ballads of the Colonial Wars, the Revolutions, the War of 1812-15, the War with Mexico and the Civil War (Complete) Various Authors, 2020-09-28

While it has been in the main the purpose of the Editor to include in the present collection only such poems as commemorate some signal act of valor historically verified it has seemed best to widen the scope sufficiently to admit a few selections that must have been excluded were the lines rigorously drawn To appeal to the student of American history has been the primary aim yet inasmuch as the chord played upon that of heroism finds a responsive echo in every heart it is hoped that the book may prove of interest to the general public as well Though there has been no attempt at an exhaustive selection a natural desire to cover as wide a field as possible has led to the admission of some ballads of lesser literary value though it is believed that none will be found that has not sufficient merit to warrant its presence Listen my children and you shall hear Of the midnight ride of Paul Revere On the eighteenth of April in Seventy Five Hardly a man is now alive Who remembers that famous day and year He said to his friend If the British march By land or sea from the town to night Hang a lantern aloft in the belfry arch Of the North Church tower as a signal light One if by land and two if by sea And I on the opposite shore will be Ready to ride and spread the alarm Through every Middlesex village and farm For the country folk to be up and to arm Then he said Good night and with muffled oar Silently rowed to the Charlestown shore Just as the moon rose over the bay Where swinging wide at her moorings lay The Somerset British man of war A phantom ship with each mast and spar Across the moon like a prison bar And a huge black hulk that was magnified By its own reflection in the tide Meanwhile his friend through alley and street Wanders and watches with eager ears Till in the silence around him he hears The muster of men at the barrack door The sound of arms and the tramp of feet And the measured tread of the grenadiers Marching down to their boats on the shore Then he climbed the tower of the Old North Church By the wooden stairs with stealthy tread To the belfry chamber overhead And startled the pigeons from their perch On the sombre rafters that round him made Masses and moving shapes of shade By the trembling ladder steep and tall To the highest window in the wall Where he paused to listen and look down A moment on the roofs of the town And the moonlight flowing over all Beneath in the churchyard lay the dead In their night encampment on the hill Wrapped in silence so deep and still That he could hear like a sentinel s tread The watchful night wind as it went Creeping along from tent to tent And seeming to whisper All is well A moment only he feels the spell Of the place and the hour and the secret dread Of the lonely belfry and the dead For suddenly all his thoughts are bent On a shadowy something far away Where the river widens to meet the bay A line of black that bends and floats On the rising tide like a bridge of boats Meanwhile impatient to mount and ride Booted and spurred with a heavy stride On the opposite shore

walked Paul Revere Now he patted his horse s side Now gazed at the landscape far and near Then impetuous stamped the earth And turned and tightened his saddle girth But mostly he watched with eager search The belfry tower of the Old North Church As it rose above the graves on the hill Lonely and spectral and sombre and still And lo as he looks on the belfry s height A glimmer and then a gleam of light He springs to the saddle the bridle he turns But lingers and gazes till full on his sight A second lamp in the belfry burns A hurry of hoofs in the village street A shape in the moonlight a bulk in the dark And beneath from the pebbles in passing a spark Struck out by a steed flying fearless and fleet That was all And yet through the gloom and the light The fate of a nation was riding that night And the spark struck out by that steed in his flight Kindled the land into flame with its heat He has left the village and mounted the steep And beneath him tranquil and broad and deep Is the Mystic meeting the ocean tides And under the alders that skirt its edge Now soft on the sand now loud on the ledge Is heard the tramp of his steed as he rides It was twelve by the village clock When he crossed the bridge into Medford town He heard the crowing of the cock And the barking of the farmer s dog And felt the damp of the river fog That rises after the sun goes down It was one by the village clock When he galloped into Lexington He saw the gilded weathercock Swim in the moonlight as he passed And the meeting house windows blank and bare Gaze at him with a spectral glare As if they already stood aghast At the bloody work they would look upon It was two by the village clock When he came to the bridge in Concord town He heard the bleating of the flock And the twitter of birds among the trees And felt the breath of the morning breeze Blowing over the meadows brown And one was safe and asleep in his bed Who at the bridge would be first to fall Who that day would be lying dead Pierced by a British musket ball You know the rest In the books you have read How the British Regulars fired and fled How the farmers gave them ball for ball From behind each fence and farmyard wall Chasing the redcoats down the lane Then crossing the fields to emerge again Under the trees at the turn of the road And only pausing to fire and load So through the night rode Paul Revere And so through the night went his cry of alarm To every Middlesex village and farm A cry of defiance and not of fear A voice in the darkness a knock at the door And a word that shall echo forevermore For borne on the night wind of the Past Through all our history to the last In the hour of darkness and peril and need The people will waken and listen to hear The hurrying hoof beats of that steed And the midnight message of Paul Revere Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Song of the Bird Pipe Steven W. Wise,2017-11-17 Hattie Wax is the type of woman that people cross the street to avoid Loud and unapologetically fierce about her convictions she makes people uncomfortable When the esteemed local judge makes frequent use of the gallows attempting to bring law and order to Arkansas in the 1880s Hattie frequents the executions vehemently opposing the sentences and offering comfort to the condemned Labeled as deplorable Hattie lives on the outskirts of ordinary society with her unlikely lover an outcast in his own right and her self made unconventional family Hattie is determined to help the people who are often neglected in her own unique way After surviving a tragic childhood Hattie forged her own path found a man she dares to love with her whole
