Baltic A Regional Future:

The Baltic John Fitzmaurice, 2016-07-27 This book examines the historical political cultural and economic links between the littoral states of the Baltic sea and seeks to analyse what it is that has created a strong sense of regional identity within the area that has enabled the area to survive conflicts external to the region that have been projected onto the region Thus this sense of identity now forms the basis for future regional cooperation that could be a significant factor for stability in the region

The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Futures Robert C. Brears, 2023-01-13 While urban settlements are the drivers of the global economy and centres of learning culture and innovation and nations rely on competitive dynamic regions for their economic social and environmental objectives urban centres and regions face a myriad of challenges that impact the ways in which people live and work create wealth and interact and connect with places Rapid urbanisation is resulting in urban sprawl rising emissions urban poverty and high unemployment rates housing affordability issues lack of urban investment low urban financial and governance capacities rising inequality and urban crimes environmental degradation increasing vulnerability to natural disasters and so forth At the regional level low employment low wage growth scarce financial resources climate change waste and pollution and rising urban peri urban competition etc are impacting the ability of regions to meet socio economic development goals while protecting biodiversity The response to these challenges has typically been the application of inadequate or piecemeal solutions often as a result of fragmented decision making and competing priorities with numerous economic environmental and social consequences In response there is a growing movement towards viewing cities and regions as complex and sociotechnical in nature with people and communities interacting with one another and with objects such as roads buildings transport links etc within a range of urban and regional settings or contexts This comprehensive MRW will provide readers with expert interdisciplinary knowledge on how urban centres and regions in locations of varying climates lifestyles income levels and stages development are creating synergies and reducing trade offs in the development of resilient resource efficient environmentally friendly liveable socially equitable integrated and technology enabled centres and regions

Shaping Regional Futures Valeria Lingua, Verena Balz, 2019-10-22 This book discusses the role of regional design and visioning in the formation of regional territorial governance to offer a better understanding of 1 how a recognition of spatial dynamics and the visualization of spatial futures informs and is informed by planning frameworks and 2 how such design processes inform co operation and collaboration on planning in metropolitan regions It gathers theoretical reflections on these topics and illustrates them by means of practical experiences in several European countries Innovatively associating ideas with knowledge it appeals to anyone with an interest in planning experiments in a post regulative era It aims at an increased understanding of how practices engaged with the imagination of possible futures support the creation of institutional capacity for strategic spatial planning at regional scales
