Отмечено, что дистанционное банковское обслуживание (далее – ДБО) является комплексом услуг удаленного доступа к различным банковским операциям, которые банки предлагают своим клиентам, причем как юридическим, так и физическим лицам. Выявлены преимущества использования услуг ДБО, одним из которых является возможность совершения клиентами удаленного доступа к своим счетам в банке или внесения платежей и переводов при помощи разных технических средств, каналов связи и специализированных программных продуктов. Установлено, что подобная форма взаимодействия с банком позволяет клиентам принимать актуальную информацию на банки или отдавать банку свои команды в любое время без посещения клиентом банка. Показано, что в современном мире многие коммерческие банки в Кыргызской Республике все чаще стали предлагать своим клиентам услуги ДБО, что в целом способствует увеличению клиентской базы. Сделан вывод, что наряду с интенсификацией банковской системы возникает и ряд проблем, связанных с безопасностью и доступностью работы банков с использованием программ ДБО.

It is noted that remote banking services (hereinafter – RBS) is a set of services for remote access to various banking operations that banks offer to their clients, both legal entities and individuals. The advantages of using RBS services are revealed, one of which is an ability of customers to remotely access their accounts at the bank or make payments and transfers using various technical means, communication channels and using specialized software products. It is established that such a form of interaction with the bank allows customers to take up current information from the bank or give their teams to the bank at the right time without visiting the bank. It is shown that at the present time, many commercial banks in the Kyrgyz Republic have increasingly begun offering their customers RB services, which generally contributes to an increase in the customer base. It is concluded that along with innovations in the banking system, a number of problems arise related to the security and accessibility of banks' work with the use of RB programs.
