Bale Fillers Western Australian Wool 1826 1916:

The Bale Fillers Christopher Fyfe,1983 The Origins of Australia's Capital Cities Pamela Statham,1989 The Origins of Australia's Capital Cities is a comprehensive survey well illustrated with maps and plans which aims to answer two questions First why Australia's eight capital cities are situated where they are and second how they were established Pairs of chapters on each of the State capitals Sydney Hobart Perth Adelaide Melbourne and Brisbane are accompanied by studies of Canberra as the federal capital and Darwin as a territorial capital A capital is the administrative centre of a political entity and in Australia unlike many overseas countries a uniquely high proportion of the population resides in the capitals Companion chapters examine the causes of initial European settlement in each area and reasons for the actual establishment of each capital city Attention is given to such topics as planning and layout the basis of growth potential rivals the social nature of the cities and the nature of their spread While there have been no other volume covering all the capitals to seek answers to the same basic questions This will therefore be an invaluable source book and provide a stimulus to further enquiry in the social history of Australia An introduction by the editor pulls together the general strands which link the chapters and highlights the ways in which the Australian experience contrasts with the urban experience overseas The Rural Entrepreneurs Simon Ville,2000-07-31 This richly illustrated book is a detailed history of a uniquely Australasian institution the stock and station agency The stock and station agent was a respected and influential figure coordinating farmers and connecting them to the outside world of banks wool buyers and government agencies in Australasia and overseas whose impact on export led growth cannot be underestimated Simon Ville examines the ways in which stock and station agents grew from their beginnings in the 1840s as pastoral finance companies to offer a wide range of support services to remote and inexperienced farming communities In the twentieth century the leading agents expanded their range of activities and became some of Australasia's earliest nationwide firms and biggest businesses The Rural Entrepreneurs provides essential insights into understanding Australasia's rural history and economic development up until the end of the twentieth century From Wheel House to Counting House Lewis R. Fischer,2017-10-18 This volume is dedicated to Maritime Business History by means of commemorating the career of Professor Peter Neville Davies a prominent member of the Economic and Social History department of the University of Liverpool a career spanning the dates 1964 1992 The volume is divided into four sections The first is a tribute and appreciation of Professor Davies which also acts as an introduction to his work for unfamiliar readers The second section focuses on business aspects of British maritime history with particular attention to the impact of British shipping overseas and the rise and decline of shipbuilding industries The third section is specific to Liverpool and Merseyside and explores the local maritime history of the area including trade with the Mediterranean local shipbuilding the Mersey port system and nautical archaeology The final section explores subjects within international maritime history particularly within Norway and America All essays and topics covered aim to collectively and significantly develop the field of maritime business history and all are directly related to Professor Davies academic interests as a means of celebrating Professor Davies own accomplishments during his career The journal concludes with a comprehensive bibliography of Professor Davies work A Community Enterprise Malcolm Tull,2017-10-18 This volume concerns the history of the Australian port of Fremantle located on the edge of Western Australia and the Indian Ocean throughout the hundred years of frequent changes to its structure and function between 1897 and 1997 Tull s aim is to use Fremantle as a prime example of the complex network of a Port as a community and a place of vast and varied maritime business endeavours He seeks to erase the perception of ports as passive links in the international transport chain in order to draw ports to the attention and further research of maritime historians The chapters are arranged thematically rather than chronologically and includes statistical appendices a bibliography and an index for ease of navigation

Friesen,2008 Leonard Friesen presents a study of the transformation of New Russia the region north of the Black and Azov seas from its conquest by the Russian Empire in the late eighteenth century to the revolutionary tumult of 1905 Friesen is particularly interested in the dynamic and multifaceted relations between the region s peasants European colonists and Russian estate owners He gives special attention to the settlement process whereby once free peasants were enserfed within a generation as well as the period of servile emancipation after 1861 when the paths of the region s agriculturalists converged in unexpected ways Overall Friesen sees the region as vital to an understanding of the empire as a whole He demonstrates how peasants nobles and estate owners were key actors in a series of rural revolutions that eventually threatened the empire itself This book contributes to our understanding of Imperial Russia as well as contemporary Ukraine by describing and analyzing rural developmental patterns over time It explores how when and why agriculturalists made adjustments to long established agrarian and social practices and provides a fresh perspective on the link between the end of empire and the rural developments that preceded it
