

How Technology is Reshaping Our Cognitive Landscape

Cognitive Landscape

Katrin Zwirgmaier

Cognitive Landscape:

Ecology, Cognition and Landscape Almo Farina, 2009-11-23 It is more and more evident that our living system is completely disturbed by human intrusion. Such intrusion affects the functioning of entire systems in ways we do not yet fully understand. We use paradigms such as the disturbance to cover large and deep gaps in our scientific knowledge. Human ecology is an uncertain terrain for anthropologists, geographers and ecologists and rarely is expanded to include the social and economic realms. The integration of different disciplines and the application of their many paradigms to problems of environmental complexity remains a distant goal despite the many efforts that have been made to achieve it. Philosophical and semantic barriers are erected when such integration is pursued by pioneering scientists. Recently evolutionary ecology has shown great interest in the spatial processes well described by the emerging discipline of landscape ecology. But this interest takes the form of pure curiosity or at worst of skepticism toward the real capacity of landscape ecology to contribute to the advancement of ecological science. The past two centuries have been characterized by huge changes occurring in the entire ecosphere. Global changes are the effects of human intervention at a planetary scale with consequent degradation of the environment creating an ecological debt for future generations. On the other side of the issue new technologies have improved the welfare of billions of people and have given hope to many other billions that they may also see such improvement in the near future.

Cognitive Landscape Paul Morrison, 2002-01-01 The Architecture of Address Jake Adam York, 2004-05-01 The Architecture of Address traces the evolution of an American species of lyric capable of public pronouncement without polemic. Beginning with Whitman, Jake Adam York seeks to describe a kind of poem wherein the most ambitious poets including Hart Crane and Robert Lowell occupy and reconstruct important public spaces. This study argues that American poets become civic actors when their poems imagine and reconstruct the conceptual architecture of the monument.

Aboriginal Maritime Landscapes in South Australia Madeline E. Fowler, 2019-07-23 Aboriginal Maritime Landscapes in South Australia reveals the maritime landscape of a coastal Aboriginal mission, Burgiyana Point Pearce in South Australia based on the experiences of the Narungga community. A collaborative initiative with Narungga peoples and a cross disciplinary approach have resulted in new understandings of the maritime history of Australia. Analysis of the long term participation of Narungga peoples in Australia's maritime past informed by Narungga oral histories, primary archival research and archaeological fieldwork delivers insights into the world of Aboriginal peoples in the post contact maritime landscape. This demonstrates that multiple interpretations of Australia's maritime past exist and provokes a reconsideration of how the relationship between maritime and Indigenous archaeology is seen. This book describes the balance ground shaped through the collaboration, collision and reconciliation of Aboriginal and non Aboriginal peoples in Australia. It considers community based practices cohesively recording such areas of importance to Aboriginal communities as beliefs, knowledges and lived experiences through a maritime lens highlighting the presence of Narungga and Burgiyana peoples in a heretofore Western dominated maritime literature Through its consideration of such themes as maritime archaeology and Aboriginal history the book is of value to scholars in a broad range of disciplines including archaeology anthropology history and Indigenous studies

Living in the Landscape Arnold Berleant,1997 In Living in the Landscape Arnold Berleant explores new ways of thinking about how we live and might live in the landscapes that enfold us Through the concepts of aesthetic engagement and environmental continuity he proposes a new paradigm that offers a holistic approach to the meaning of place and places of meaning in our lives Although environmental aesthetics is linked in the popular mind to dramatic vistas and monumental landscapes the Grand Canyon for example Berleant is much more concerned with the commonplace settings of everyday life He argues that our active appreciation of or aesthetic engagement with the prosaic landscapes of home work local travel and recreation plays a vital role in our discovery of hidden continuities as well as pleasure and meaning in the places we inhabit Berleant begins with a general introduction to environmental aesthetics identifying the kinds of experience meanings and values it involves and describing its historical sources and the issues with which it is concerned In the rest of the book he spotlights new directions in the field as they relate to education community creativity and the sacred and provides an insightful analysis of negative environmental aesthetics Throughout he is both thoughtful and entertaining as evidenced in his extended critique of the pop post modern environment of Disney World Berleant addresses issues commonly associated with the environmental movement e g preservation pollution control and quality of life But his study draws from a wide range of disciplines and for that reason should also appeal to scholars and students interested in art and aesthetics landscape architecture and planning urban and environmental design and cultural geography as well as environmental studies
