This book examines the often surprising relations between Orthodox churches and political regimes. It provides a comprehensive overview of the dynamics between Eastern Christianity and politics from the end of the Second World War to the fall of communism covering 40 Orthodox churches including diasporic churches in Africa, Asia, America and Australia. Based on research from recently opened archives and publications in a wide range of European languages it analyses church-state relations on both sides of the Iron Curtain. It discusses the following key themes: the relationship between Orthodox churches and political power; religious resistance to communism; the political control of churches; religion and propaganda; monasticism and theological publications; religious diplomacy within the Orthodox commonwealth; and religious contacts between East and West. The Dynamics of European Security Cooperation, 1945-91 Gülnur Aybet, 2016-01-12 This is the first integrated analysis of all aspects of security cooperation in western Europe from 1945 to 1991. It covers all aspects of security cooperation which range from the political such as a European voice in arms control to military such as a European input into NATO strategy and economic involving collaboration in defence technology and production. Policy and Economic Performance in Divided Korea During the Cold War Era Nick Eberstadt, 2010.
