Public Performance & Management Review ,2006 Intergovernmental Management for the 21st Century Timothy J.

Conlan,Paul L. Posner,2008-06-30 America s complex system of multi layered government faces new challenges as a result of rapidly changing economic technological and demographic trends An aging population economic globalization and homeland security concerns are among the powerful factors testing the system's capacity and flexibility. Major policy challenges and responses are now overwhelmingly intergovernmental in nature and as a result the fortunes of all levels of government are more intertwined and interdependent than ever before. This volume, cosponsored by the National Academy of Public Administration (NAPA), defines an agenda for improving the performance of America's intergovernmental system. The early chapters present the current state of practice in intergovernmental relations, including discussion of trends toward centralization, devolution, and other power-sharing arrangements. The fiscal underpinnings of the system are analyzed along with the long-term implications of current trends in financing at all levels. The authors identify the principal tools used to define intergovernmental management: grants, mandates, preemptions. In discussing emerging models and best practices in the design and management of those tools, Intergovernmental Management for the 21st Century applies these crosscutting themes to critical policy areas where intergovernmental management and cooperation are essential, such as homeland security, education, welfare, health care, and the environment. It concludes with an authoritative assessment of the system's capacity to govern, oversee, and improve. Contributors include Jocelyn Johnston (American University), Shelley Metzenbaum (University of Maryland), Richard Nathan (SUNY at Albany), Barry Rabe (University of Michigan), Beryl Radin (American University), Alice Rivlin (Brookings Institution), Ray Sheppach (National Governors' Association), Frank Shafroth (George Mason University), Troy Smith (BYU Hawaii), and Carl Stenberg (University of North Carolina). International Review of Public Administration, 2008

Instructor's Manual for American Government: Continuity and Change, 2006 Edition Sue Davis, 2006 Innovations in Government Sanford F. Borins, 2008-02-28. A Brookings Institution Press and Ash Center for Democratic Governance and Innovation publication. The Innovations in American Government Awards Program began in 1985 with a grant from the Ford Foundation to the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard to conduct The Indian Journal of Public Administration, 2008 Toward a Peaceable Future Yōichirō Murakami, Noriko Kawamura, Shin Chiba, 2005. In a pioneering cross-cultural, transnational, and multifaceted endeavor, Japanese and American scholars from various disciplines jointly explore challenging questions by redefining the three key concepts of peace, security, and kyosei. The book offers new perspectives for interdisciplinary peace studies and stimulates a public dialogue on how to shape a safer and more peaceful future for individuals, communities, and nations. Public Administration William Carl Johnson, 2009 Handbook of Research Methods in Public Administration, Second Edition Kaifeng Yang, Gerald Miller, 2008. This handbook explores how systematic research methods could aid in understanding traditional questions in public administration as well as emerging theoretical and practical questions. A supporting website provides datasets, unpublished research examples, and actual published research articles.
