Collected Essays Volume 3 Science:

Collected Essays Howard Phillips Lovecraft, 2004 A complete edition of Lovecraft's nonfictional writing exclusive of letters issued in five thematic volumes As a majority of the essays were written during Lovecraft's involvement in amateur journalism 1914-1925 a substantial proportion of them deal with at least indirectly with amateur affairs such as his literary criticism that focuses on amateur writers or is the product of debates within the amateur press

Collected Essays Thomas Henry Huxley, 1898 Gaither's Dictionary of Scientific Quotations Carl C. Gaither, Alma E. Cavazos-Gaither, 2008-01-08 Scientists and other keen observers of the natural world sometimes make or write a statement pertaining to scientific activity that is destined to live on beyond the brief period of time for which it was intended This book serves as a collection of these statements from great philosophers and thought influencers of science past and present It allows the reader quickly to find relevant quotations or citations Organized thematically and indexed alphabetically by author this work makes readily available an unprecedented collection of approximately 18 000 quotations related to a broad range of scientific topics

Collected Essays Thomas Henry Huxley, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1897 edition Excerpt Endowment of Research have been proposed It has been suggested that Laboratories for all branches of Physical Science provided with every apparatus needed by the investigator shall be established by the State and shall be accessible under due conditions and regulations to all properly qualified persons I see no objection to the principle of such a proposal If it be legitimate to spend great sums of money on public Libraries and public collections of Painting and Sculpture in aid of the Man of Letters or the Artist or for the mere sake of affording pleasure to the general public I apprehend that it cannot be illegitimate to do as much for the promotion of scientific investigation To take the lowest ground as a mere investment of money the latter is likely to be much more immediately profitable To my mind the difficulty in the way of such schemes is not theoretical but practical Given the laboratories how are the investigators to be maintained What career is open to those who have been thus encouraged to leave bread winning pursuits If they are to be provided for by endowment we come back to the College Fellowship system the results of which for Literature have not been so brilliant that one would wish to see it extended to Science unless some much better securities than at present exist can be taken that it will foster real work You know that among the Bees it depends on the kind of cell in which the egg is deposited and the quantity and quality of food which is supplied to the grub whether it shall turn out a busy little worker or a big idle queen And in the human hive the cells of the endowed larvae are always tending to enlarge and their food to improve until we get queens beautiful to behold but
