The Crazy Dervish and the Pomegranate Tree Farnoosh Moshiri, 2004 Stories that combines social and political insight with the mythology of the authors native Iran The stories are set both in Iran and the United States Several of the stories are concerned with the poverty and loss of status and identity that immigrants often endure Unlike most immigrant stories these stories deal equally with the violence and political repression visited upon those who would emigrate during the fundamentalist revolution in Iran publisher web site Transnational Narratives in Englishes of Exile Catalina Florina Florescu, Sheng-mei Ma, 2017-11-15 Monolingual monolithic English is an issue of the past In this collection by using cinema poetry art and novels we demonstrate that English has become the heteroglossic language of immigration Englishes of exile By appropriating its plural form we pay respect to all those who have been improving standard English thus proving that one may be born in a language as well as give birth to a language or add to it one s own version The story of the immigrant refugee exile expatriate is everybody s story and without migration we could not evolve our human race Against Gravity Farnoosh Moshiri, 2005-12-27 More information to be announced soon on this forthcoming title from Penguin USA

Women and Islam Zayn R. Kassam, 2010-10-21 This balanced exploration provides the basis for an energetic engagement with what it means to be a Muslim woman in a globalized world The expert essays in Women and Islam are designed to stimulate discussion and help readers achieve a more sober understanding of the lives of Muslim women around the world They explore the issues Muslim women face as they fight for gender justice and meet the challenges of living in a globalized post 9 11 world whether in Iran or France Ethiopia or the United States Each chapter examines a different part of the globe exploring issues arising from cultural and religious codes as well as from internal and global politics economics education and the law Readers will glimpse the many and diverse ways in which Muslim women are actively involved in addressing the conditions embedded in their discrete environments and taking up the opportunities afforded to them adopting strategies ranging from the political to the legal from the theatrical to the religious MultiCultural Review , 2005 Let Me Tell You Where I've Been Persis M. Karim, 2006-05 Until recently Iranian literature has overwhelmingly been the domain of men But in the twenty seven years since the Iranian revolution women both in Iran and in the diaspora have written and published in unprecedented numbers The new hybrid cultures of Iranian diaspora writers has given way to a uniquely feminine literary voice the Iranian diaspora is an extensive collection of poetry fiction and nonfiction that explores through literature the influences of history revolution war exile and immigration The work in this collection uncovers an emerging multicultural generation of female sensibility and eloquence Unlike the tired familiar images of Iran in the media these women write about the complicated spaces between cultures and capture a unique and still emerging literature They challenge both the patriarchal literary tradition of Iran and the singular portrayals in the West of Iranian women as veiled silent and lacking in agency published before from over fifty contributors including such well known writers as Susan Atefat Peckham Tara

Bahrampour Firoozeh Dumas Azadeh Moaveni and Farnoosh Moshiri the collection represents a substantial cross section of this unique multicultural community Organized around six general themes including home and away family and tradition gender politics love and silence Let Me Tell You Where I ve Been creates a rich conversation about Iran Iranian culture the Persian and English languages and the dual identities of its authors In a time when Iran is cited daily in the news and political rhetoric is at an all time high this collection offers a complex and humanizing literary representation These writers bring their individual and collective vision and offer a powerful new voice to the international literary scene
