Creating A School Media Program:

Precalculus Judith A. Beecher, Judith A. Penna, Marvin L. Bittinger, 2001-12 The BPB team has created a book where the use of the graphing calculator is optional but visualizing the mathematics is not. By creating algebraic visual side by sides the authors show students the relationship of the algebraic solution with the visual often graphical solution. In addition to helping students visualize the math with the side by sides the authors focus on helping students make the connection between x intercepts zeros and solutions both visually and algebraically.

Creating a school media program John Thomas Gillespie, Diana L. Spirt, 1973 Guide for Developing and Evaluating School Library Media Programs, 2000 With simple straight forward directions and hundreds of reproducibles this book provides you with a step by step guide for evaluating your school library media program. Individual chapters cover standards programs preparation of media personnel certification continuing education personnel and evaluation leadership planning and management resources and facilities. Many of the concepts and guidelines of Information Power have been incorporated into the text.

Toward a 21st-Century School Library Media Program Esther Rosenfeld, David V. Loertscher, 2007-10-15 This collection of enlightening and stimulating articles written by some of the most important figures in school librarianship demonstrates how teacher librarians classroom teachers and administrators can work together to create a 21st century school library media program. With topics that emphasize student success leadership partnerships curriculum design collaborative planning and teaching literacy 21st century skills emerging technologies and so much more this compendium brings together the best of the best discussions. The practicing teacher librarian as well as the student seeking to expand his or her knowledge of the field will find this compilation especially beneficial in providing an overview of the most critical issues related to the role the teacher librarian plays in their school. The articles previously published in the peer reviewed Teacher Librarian The Journal for School Library Professionals with several included from the magazine VOYA Voice of Youth Advocates reveal how school libraries and teacher librarians are moving forward to meet the challenges of this new century.

The Choice to Change Cindy Jeffrey Krimmelbein, 1989 Teaching library media research and information skills series Advice for integrating a library media skills program into the curriculum.

Power Up Your Library Bloomsbury Publishing, 1996-09-15 Based on the methods of the New York City Library Power Program this is a practical handbook for revitalizing or rebuilding the school library. Putting the many facets of the media specialist's professional life into the context of a flexibly scheduled collaboratively planned teaching program the book offers simple strategies for effecting positive change. It covers such topics as the librarian's role as teacher programming assessment collection development facilities technology the library budget support staff and public relations. Written for the school library media specialist who has or plans to have a library that conforms to today's vision of an effective school library media program this book places the library media center at the heart of the school's educational program and shows how to position the library as the catalyst for school reform.
