Creating Boundaries Kathryn A. Manzo,1998     Race, Nation, and Citizenship in Postcolonial Africa Ronald Aminzade,2013-10-31 Nationalism has generated violence bloodshed and genocide as well as patriotic sentiments that encourage people to help fellow citizens and place public responsibilities above personal interests This study explores the contradictory character of African nationalism as it unfolded over decades of Tanzanian history in conflicts over public policies concerning the rights of citizens foreigners and the nation s Asian racial minority These policy debates reflected a history of racial oppression and foreign domination and were shaped by a quest for economic development racial justice and national self reliance     Spaces of Hate Colin Flint,2013-10-18 While much has been written about hate groups and extreme right political movements this book will be the first that addresses the crucial role that place and context play in generating and shaping them Ranging across geographical scales the essays start with the home and then move from the local to the regional to the national to finally the global In this collection much of the focus is on the U S as the contributors consider a variety of hate activity and hate groups across the country including rural white supremacist and neo Nazi movements anti black sentiment directed towards cities anti gay activity in cities and rural areas and the resurgent Southern nationalist movement Closing with pieces from those who combat hate activity the intention of Spaces of Hate is to recognize specific geographic settings likely to foster hate activity     International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature Chiefly in the Fields of Arts and Humanities and the Social Sciences ,1999     Writing Security David Campbell,1992     Canadian Review of Studies in Nationalism ,1999     International Social Science Journal ,2008-03     Bibliographie Mensuelle. Sport and Nationalism in Ireland Mike Cronin,1999 This book examines the development of a nationalist agenda within Irish sport and searches for a definition of nationalism in this context The question of what Irish nationalism is and what forces shape it has stretched the minds of generations of Irish historians and political scientists For some the answer has been found within the realms of political history while others have examined how the cultural impact of Irish literature and drama has shaped nationalism These genres relied on elites be they political or literary within Irish society to understand the evolution of nationalist thinking and the operation of nationalism as an ideal Sport offers a new way of looking at nationalism as it offers mass consumed low culture as a vehicle Since the foundation of the Gaelic Athletic Association GAA in 1884 through to the current popularity of soccer sporting events have been played by tens of thousand and watched by hundreds of thousands of Irish people both at home and as part of the diaspora This means that sport has a greater resonance and meaning for the experience of the multitude of the Irish in stark contrast to the operation of Dublin centred politics and literature This book defines sporting nationalism through the experience of Gaelic games and soccer as examples of mass spectator sport The choice of a mass spectator sport which a nation chooses to support will demonstrate the perceived place of that nation within the world and the trends prevalent within its society thereby intrinsically defining the state of its nationalism
