Variation in English and German Nominal Coreference Kerstin Anna Kunz, 2010 The topic of this work is nominal coreference in English and German Its focus is on coreference relations that establish textual coherence and continuity above the local level of the clause The book shows how linguistic options for creating coreference in English and German can be interpreted against the background of their motivating factors It discusses mental text processing German English systemic contrasts and register peculiarities as possible sources for variation on different linguistic levels Hermeneutic and example based observations are complemented by a corpus linguistic analysis of English and German political essays and German translations from the English originals The study finally highlights linguistic and functional correlations of coreference instantiations in English and German texts additionally shedding light on coreference strategies employed in translations It thus yields an incentive for future research as well as providing a wealth of insights for language and translation teaching

Al-Ghazali's Philosophical Theology Frank Griffel, 2009-05-28 The Muslim thinker al Ghazali d 1111 was one of the most influential theologians and philosophers of Islam and has been considered an authority in both Western and Islamic philosophical traditions Born in northeastern Iran he held the most prestigious academic post in Islamic theology in Baghdad only to renounce the position and teach at small schools in the provinces for no money His contributions to Islamic scholarship range from responding to the challenges of Aristotelian philosophy to creating a new type of Islamic mysticism and integrating both these traditions falsafa and Sufism into the Sunni mainstream This book offers a comprehensive study of al Ghazali s life and his understanding of cosmology how God creates things and events in the world how human acts relate to God s power and how the universe is structured Frank Griffel presents a serious revision of traditional views on al Ghazali showing that his most important achievement was the creation of a new rationalist theology in which he transformed the Aristotelian views of thinkers such as Avicenna to accord with intellectual currents that were well established within Muslim theological discourse Using the most authoritative sources including reports from al Ghazali s students his contemporaries and his own letters Griffel reconstructs every stage in a turbulent career The al Ghazali that emerges offers many surprises particularly on his motives for leaving Baghdad and the nature of his seclusion afterwards Griffel demonstrates that al Ghazali intended to create a new cosmology that moved away from concerns held earlier by Muslim theologians and Arab philosophers This new theology aimed to provide a framework for the pursuit of the natural sciences and a basis for Islamic science and philosophy to flourish beyond the 12th century Al Ghazali s Philosophical Theology is the most thorough examination to date of this important thinker
