Cocks Funeral:

Japan, 1922 Cocks's Musical Miscellany, The Garos Alan Playfair, 1909 With an introduction by J Bampfylde Fuller The Story in Primary Instruction Samuel Buell Allison, Hannah Avis Perdue, 1902 History of the Sixteenth Henry Graham, 1912 Wellington's Worst Scrape Carole Divall, 2013-01-19 The disastrous retreat and near disintegration of Sir John Moores army on the road to Corunna in 1809 is traditionally regarded as the low point in the history of the British intervention in the Peninsular War Yet under the Duke of Wellington the British and their allies suffered defeats and retreats that tend to be overshadowed by the series of victories that eventually drove the French from Portugal and Spain None of these setbacks was graver than the retreat that followed the disastrous failure of the siege of Burgos in 1812 It is this less than glorious phase of the Peninsular campaign that is the subject of Carole Divalls latest study of the British army of the Napoleonic Wars By reconstructing events in close detail and by bringing together many primary sources she gives a vivid account of what happened and why Wellington himself recognized the mistakes and miscalculations that led to the potentially catastrophic situation in which he placed his men He described it as his worst scrape Yet most of the letters journals and memoirs that have survived praise the skill with which he saved Britain s only army from disaster Carole Divall weaves together Wellingtons dispatches with the eyewitness testimony left by British and Portuguese officers and men by civilians and by the French A fascinating multi layered impression emerges of the siege of Burgos itself and the sequence of maneuvers that preceded it She describes in authentic detail the tense decision making and the misjudgments that were made on the allied side and the headlong retreat that followed as the British fled from two French armies that threatened to trap and destroy them Carole Divalls in depth study of a pivotal and neglected episode in the Peninsular War gives a fascinating insight into the character of the fighting at every level and into the strengths and weaknesses of Wellingtons command The Hung Society Or the Society of Heaven and Earth John Sebastian Marlow Ward, William George Stirling, 1926 Greek and Latin Inscriptions on Stone in the Collections of Charles University Univerzita Karlova. Filozofická fakulta, Václav Marek, 1977 Catalogue of Music British Museum, 1896 The Religious System of China Jan Jakob Maria Groot, 1892 "The" Religious System of China J. J. M. "de" Groot, 1892 Beliefs and Superstitions of the Pennsylvania Germans Edwin Miller Fogel, 1915 Women's Writing and the Circulation of Ideas George Justice, Nathan Tinker, 2002-03-07 It was widely believed that women in Renaissance and early modern England either did not write or did not publish their work It has become clear that instead of using the emerging technology of print many women writers circulated their works by hand with friends copying and recopying poems plays and novels from each other or with the help of professional scribes Through manuscript publication women s writing reached wide audiences and was collected and admired by both men and women Women s Writing and the Circulation of Ideas contributes to the discovery and re evaluation of women writers by examining the writing and manuscript publication of key authors from 1550 to 1800 The collection s analysis of the range and meaning of women s writing and manuscript publication during the rise of the print industry alters our understanding of the history of the book and early modern British literature alike

The Peninsular War Ian Fletcher,2012-02-02 In 1994 Ian Fletcher published his book Fields of Fire which was the first book to show Wellingtons Peninsular War battlefields in full color Now almost 20 years on he returns with a second book The Peninsular War Wellingtons Battlefields Revisited which shows how things have changed since 1994 The beautiful photographs cover all of Wellingtons major battles and many smaller engagements also to show them in all their glory from the snowy Galician mountains to the dry dusty plain of Salamanca and from the low rolling slopes of Albuera to the breathtaking Pyrenees Coming as it does in the middle of the 200th anniversary of the Peninsular War this book is a timely reminder of one of the most successful campaigns ever fought by the British Army
