New Aldeburgh Anthology Ariane Bankes, Jonathan Reekie, 2009 A book for those drawn back to Aldeburgh year after year for the music writing and arts and to all who care for the landscape the sea and the ongoing life of the Suffolk Coast The New Aldeburgh Anthology takes its inspiration from Ronald Blythe's classic Aldeburgh Anthology of 1972 which summoned the spirit of Aldeburgh and the Suffolk coast in words and images that resonate still and has proved enduringly popular This new volume brings the story up to date and distils the very essence of the place just at the point when its identity might seem diluted by the accelerating pace of change It speaks for and to the present generation combining young voices with old those of writers and musicians with poets and artists of historians with naturalists architects and ecologists and local people

Britten and Pears Aldeburgh Festival lies at the heart of the enterprise. Much has changed but the Festival still owes its unique appeal and character to the remarkable history and the inspiration of its founders as well as their strong sense of place. Their legacy is re-examined by musicians such as Ian Bostridge, Steven Isserlis and Roger Vignoles and music writers James Fenton, Paul Kildea, Peter Dickinson and Rupert Christiansen. Aldeburgh and the east coast of Suffolk is about so much more than music however the poets Andrew Motion, Blake Morrison, Kevin Crossley-Holland and Lavinia Greenlaw and other writers as diverse as Craig Brown and Wilkie Collins have all been inspired by its bright yet haunting atmosphere. Maggi Hambling and Alison Wilding are sculptors who have left their mark on the landscape while artists as varied as Sidney Nolan and John Piper, Arthur Boyd and Louise Wilson have all derived rich inspiration from it. The very landscape and ecology of east Suffolk is on the move too the coastline responding to the vagaries of climate change the traditional ways of life of farming and of fishing giving way to new. George Ewart Evans, W.G. Sebald and Richard Mabey are among those who respond to the power of the landscape others to the spell of the sea and the life that has evolved around both is evoked in words and images some of them startling in their intensity. Amongst the many contributions the new Anthology contains some of the classic articles from the original including writings by W.H. Auden, George Crabbe, Eric Crozier, Imogen Holst, Norman Scarfe and of course Ronald Blythe himself. Published in association with Aldeburgh Music Imaginary People David Pringle, 1996. A new edition of the who's who of over 1,400 fictional characters whose names are sometimes so familiar it's difficult to remember they're imaginary. Included in the biographical parade is Ben Casey, Casper and Fitzwilliam Darcy a compendium of high, low and no-brow at all each exactly recorded with a snippet of biographical anecdote. The human imagination manifests in countless different forms. We imagine the possible and the impossible. How do we do this so effortlessly? Why did the capacity for imagination evolve and manifest with undeniably manifold complexity uniquely in human beings? This handbook reflects on such questions by collecting perspectives on imagination from leading experts. It showcases a rich and detailed analysis on how the imagination is understood across several disciplines of study including anthropology, archaeology, medicine, neuroscience, psychology, philosophy and the arts. An integrated theoretical, empirical, applied picture of the field is presented which stands to inform researchers, students and practitioners about the issues of relevance across the board when considering the imagination. With each chapter the nature of human imagination is examined, what it entails, how it evolved and why it singularly defines us as a species.
