R. Peacocke,2004-03-18 A R Peacocke s Creation and the World of Science an expanded version of his 1978 Bampton Lectures was widely recognized as a key work on the relation of the sciences to religion in general and Christian theology in particular It has long been seen as a formative contribution to the wide ranging investigations which now internationally constitute this intensely active field This new reprinting contains the original and influential text and also contains a newsupplement containing key references to the literature of recent years as well as indicating the author s current position on central themes It constitutes an essential reference and starting point for the contemporary discussion of key issues in the dialogue between the sciences and theology [Creation's Testimony to Its God, the Accordance of Science, Philosophy, and Revelation. Moran,2012-03-15 Evolution has been a perennial flash point in American politics But it is not merely a political issue In American Genesis Jeffrey P Moran explores the ways in which the evolution debate has reverberated beyond the confines of state legislatures and courthouses Moran shows that social forces such as gender regionalism and race have intersected with the debate over evolution in ways that shed light on modern American culture He investigates for instance how antievolutionism deepened the cultural divisions between North and South as when northern elites embraced evolution as a sign of sectional enlightenment while southern opponents defined themselves as the standard bearers of true Christianity Evolution debates also exposed a deep gulf between conservative Black Christians and secular intellectuals such as W E B DuBois In addition Moran explores the motives and methods of antievolutionism and the ways in which the struggle has played out in the universities on the internet and even within the evangelical community Throughout Moran shows that evolution has served as a weapon as an enforcer of identity and as a polarizing force both within and without the churches
