A Question Of Eros:

Plato and the Question of Beauty Drew A. Hyland,2008-05-28 Drew A Hyland one of Continental philosophy s keenest interpreters of Plato takes up the question of beauty in three Platonic dialogues the Hippias Major Symposium and Phaedrus What Plato meant by beauty is not easily characterized and Hyland s close readings show that Plato ultimately gives up on the possibility of a definition Plato s failure however tells us something important about beauty that it cannot be reduced to logos Exploring questions surrounding love memory and ideal form Hyland draws out the connections between beauty the possibility of philosophy and philosophical living This new reading of Plato provides a serious investigation into the meaning of beauty and places it at the very heart of philosophy

A Question of Voice Ron Scapp,2020-12-07 A Question of Voice Philosophy and the Search for Legitimacy offers an explicit and comprehensive consideration of voice as a complex of rethinking aspects of the history of philosophy through issues of power as well as contemporary issues that include and involve the desire for and the dynamics of legitimacy for individuals and communities By identifying voice as a significant theme and means by which and through which we might better engage some important philosophical questions Ron Scapp hopes to expand traditional philosophical discussion and discourse regarding questions about validity legitimacy empathy and solidarity He offers an innovative perspective that is informed and guided by multiculturalism ethnic studies queer studies feminism and thinkers and critics such as bell hooks Barbara Christian Angela Davis Jacques Derrida Michel Foucault among others A Question of Voice is an American investigation but also suggests questions that emanate from contemporary continental thought as well as issues that arise from transnational perspectives an approach that is motivated by doing philosophy in an age of multiculturalism

Dream Analysis 1 C.G. Jung,2013-10-28 Provides clarification of Jung s method of dream analysis Based upon a previously unpublished series of dreams of one of Jung s patients Far Away Bryan T. Clark,2020-05-01 Noah Rothenberg spent the summer with his first love the charming and seductive Spiro He fell head over heels in love from what started as a clumsy crush But that was twelve years ago His relationships since have been spectacular failures because of how things ended with Spiro If he has any hope of moving forward he needs to find Spiro and get some closure even if he has to fly halfway around the world to a tiny island in Greece to do it Love isn t an emotion Spiro Papadopoulos entirely trusts anymore He s far too pragmatic for that His focus these days has to be on his art and caring for his ailing mother Being with Noah again is easy and feels so right but is it love Spiro isn t sure Besides with his entire life being tied to Greece and Noah s to New York love might just be a luxury neither of them can afford Can Spiro and Noah overcome the oceans and years between them or will their second chance at love end as badly as their first

"Shelling" women for pleasure in "Sunset at Dawn". An analysis of the abused woman in African literature Wazha Lopang,2017-10-16 Essay from the year 2017 in the subject Literature Africa University of Botswana language English abstract The African continent is synonymous with war and women are caught up in it in the perpetual role of the victim African literature in the pre colonial and colonial period has tended to be very intransigent in its portrayal of females in times of conflict The African writer has created a fragmented female This character is often bartered manipulated or presented as lovesick in conflict situations creating a flawed and destructive image of the African woman I argue that writers of African literature exposing the violent conflict of colonialism and liberation have a pessimistic outlook on the role of women in war which has hindered the empowerment of women I will use Psychoanalysis and its concept on the life and death instincts to account for why sex and identity dominates the portrayal of women in pre colonial and colonial literature African writers have created a situation where conflict necessitates a sexual definition of the female character Women thus possess a paradoxical identity of being sensual and consuming of the male phallus which ultimately breaks and consumes them The conflict resolution is such that sex seems to logically place and displace ideas of sexuality and its impact on the female character

A Question of Eros Suzanne Lynn Dovi,1991

Plotinus on the Good or the One (Enneads VI,9) Meijer,1992-01-01 Amazing as it may be to this day few commentaries on the treatises of Plotinus Enneads are written The classic ninth treatise VI 9 in Porphyrius order for example has hardly been studied This treatise however is of vital importance because it is in this work that for the first time in the Enneads the One in its superform emerges and Plotinus dwells on the remarkable phenomenon of a mystical union of the soul with the One A thorough analysis of the argument and its development next to philosophical and philological support will be welcome to any reader of this intriguing but difficult treatise These aims are pursued in the main part of Meijer's work the commentary The first part of the book preceding the commentary examines the philosophical history of the concept of the One and its status in the first eight treatises This new approach to the problem of the One leads to striking conclusions It appears that while Plotinus was writing these first eight treatises the concept of the One developed from that of a Supreme Entity of a Mesoplatonian character viz the upper part of the mind to One of a Superone above mind This casts an entirely new light on the position of the One in Plotinus and that of the ninth treatise itself The third part not only examines the mystical union as pictured in the ninth treatise but also provides a full scale discussion of Plotinus descriptions of this union in his entire work The degree of unification viz the question whether a part of the mystic self remains intact during the unification is a matter of vigorous scholarly debate Meijer shows that in spite of some inconsistencies in his doctrine about the union one must accept that Plotinus basically considered the union as a complete absorption of the soul into the Supreme Entity
